Save the Parks

An Editorial

The Village of Arlington Heights and particularly the congested central business district is confronted with an ominous major problem by the announced plan of the Chicago and North Western Railroad to dispose of the present parkway areas to private interests.

In pursuing the so-called New Haven Plan, disposing of surplus land grants, the railroad at one fell stroke will initiate the eventual destruction of one of the principal attractions of our community and add to the traffic confusion that now plagues the central retail district.

Arlington Heights can ill afford to pass up an opportunity to permanently settle this threatening and vexing problem. The Board of Park Commissioners of the Arlington Heights Park District have an obligation here to preserve their well developed plan and overall landscaping program by acquiring title to the lands in question.

Where can you find a comparable setting in a commuter town with trains stopping in the center of a park plaza? Here many impressions are born and first impressions are lasting impressions.

Our pioneer forbears, who planned and planted these areas, must be disturbed in their eternal slumber at the suggestion that we give up our front yard vista to the sordid commercialization of the present dollar smart generation.

The aesthetic values of this setting affect property values throughout the village—not only dollar-wise but living-wise. No stone must be left unturned to preserve this beauty spot to posterity even though some in the present generation would seek to squander the inheritance.

The officers of the Chicago and North Western Railroad should recognize the eminent domain of the community in this proposition and come forward with a square deal for the community. The community in turn should pay a fair price for the title to these lands, and having done so implore the railroad to use the money thus paid to give us a new and respectable railroad station.

The tempo of the times to destroy the basic features of community stature and reputation should be resisted with all vigor at the command of an alert citizenry and their administrative officials.

800 youngsters greet Santa Claus on his first visit to Arlington

Santa chatted with nearly 800 children on his first visit to Arlington Heights. The "jolly old elf" was literally swamped by the younger set when he arrived Friday via fire truck.

As one glanced at the upturned faces he could see the looks of awe and bewilderment on some, and the look of skepticism on others. These soon turned to smiles and shouts of glee, however, when Santa called a cheery hello and got off the fire truck with his pack flung over his back.

Due to the huge crowd Santa had to get back on the truck and go to his headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce office, 113 E. Davis st., where he personally talked to each boy and girl and collected nearly 100 letters besides. Each child received a candy cane as a special treat. Santa gave some of the information in the letters to Paddock Publications so they could write a story, telling what the small fry are asking for Christmas 1951.

"I'LL BE BACK in Arlington this Friday," said Santa, "and I'll be here every day, except Sundays, until December 24. Any boys and girls who missed seeing me last Friday will have plenty of opportunity to do so within the next week."

He will be at his headquarters from 4:15 to 5:30 p.m. and 6:30 to 9 p.m. each day. December 24 he will only be there until 6 p.m.

Following are excerpts from some of the letters received by Santa.

"I am happy you came to our town . . . These are the things I wish to have for Christmas. The thing I want to have most is a globe and next I want to have a spring kitten . . . and then if you have enough time to make this I want a record player. I hope your little helpers don't have tired hands. Jan Wagner."

"I want a 1, sturdy drum and sticks; 2, a set of guns; 3, a red rider rifle; . . . 13 Coca Cola dispenser. Douglas Halz."

"Please give me a switch track, tools, fix-it kit. I've been a good boy. David Gish."

"I like dolls and I will put some chocolate for you. I want 10 soldiers and a truck and some other toys. Thank you. Ford Slagle."

"Please bring me a train, a farm, a truck, an army training station. That is all, Santa. Love, William Andres."

"I would like a doll and I really need a doll buggy because my other ons is third handed and all torn. I am 26 months old. Cathleen Taylor."

"I have been a good boy. Would you please bring me a bike, a scooter, a little train, a blackboard and some little cards. And please don't forget my little brother, Neil. He would like a bear and some blocks. Thank you. Santa. Scott Lawson."

"My Grandma said that she would pay you for an electric train for me if you have any left. Do you think that I have been good enough this year to have a train? I need a warm coat and cap and a bathrobe . . I will leave a nice lunch for you on the kitchen table. Randy Opela."

"Would you please bring me a drum and some games for sister and I to play? Thank you. Bobby Peterson."

"Thank you for all my toys. You and your brownies are very good help. And it is so good that you and your brownies come all the way from the North Pole just to give us toys. For Christmas I want a watch and a ping-pong gun. With love, Jerry Schaefer."

"I want a doll house, doll clothes, nylon blouse, dress, slipper socks. Many Thanks. Ann Warren." (This on hand-decorated stationery.)

"Please may I have a Toni doll and some school clothes. Please fill my stocking with goodies, too. Barbara Ann."

"I will try to be good all through Christmas and every day. If you have the things listed below, I would like to have some of them (10 items). I know you can't bring me all of these things, but I will be happy with whatever you do bring me. Thank you. Sandy Schultheis."

"I am trying to be a good boy. If I am good enough, will you give me a lever acting cork rifle, dial typewriter and xylophone? Richard Hartman."

". . . First I want a gun and a baseball game and a table top pool table and chinese checkers and drum and sticks and double-barrelled pop guns. Your friend. Dennis Hartman."

"Will you please give me one of these toys for Christmas? Electric train, two guns and two holsters with strings, football hat and jacket pads, cowboy spats. Many thinks. Billy Warren."

"I would like a Dale Evans watch, guns, cowgirl suit, ice skates and a doll but not necessary. I am eight years old. Karen Taylor."

"Will you please bring me dolly, doll stroller, dress, doll house furniture, ironing board, watch. Many thinks. Jane Warren."

"Baby doll, records, books, wood-burning set, some story book dolls, tiny tears doll, some doll clothes, school supplies. Sherry Dahl."

". . . There will be cookies and cake for you by the fireplace. Jimmy and Marilou Jacubiac."

"Please bring me a pair of roller skates and a sled. I would also like a house to live in—we live in three sleeping rooms and I can't have my friends come and play in our house. You know we have our tree in my daddy's little room. Thank you Santa. Patsy Walt."

Nine more men from this area drafted December 7

Local Draft Board 101 inducted one Wheeling, six Palatine and two Arlington Heights men into service December 7.

Those reporting for service were: William A. Wiest of Wheeling; Alvin R. Kehe and William H. Morrison, Arlington Heights; George F. Gschwindt Jr., Elmer W. Meyer, John H. Schroeder, Harold E. Klapp, Robert L. Story and Earl G. Beyer, all of Palatine.

Local musical groups to be aired next week

Christmas music floating out over the Arlington Heights air next week will include several tape recordings of concerts given by local choral groups and church choirs.

The first of these broadcasts will be December 18, at 7:30 p.m., featuring the Prospect Heigths Choral Society. Arlington Heights Barbershoppers will also be heard on this night, their program beginning at 8:30 p.m.

A CONCERT by the Methodist church choirs will be aired December 19, at 7:30 p.m. That same evening the St. John Evangelical and Reformed church choir will also be heard. Their program begins at 8:30 p.m.

St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran church choir will broadcast December 20, at 7:30 p.m., while the Presbyterian church choir will give its program at 8:30 p.m. the same night.

Faith Evangelical Lutheran church choir will be heard December 21 at 8 p.m.

Edens highway a Christmas gift; opens next week

The last concrete was poured Tuesday and after a two week period, during which the concrete will harden, cure, and shape, Edens expressway will open to public uses. The new 14 mile route cost an approximate 24 million dollars.

The concrete poured Tuesday will fill a section between Harrison street and Golf road, in Niles township.

Edens expressway, with 25 bridges and eight traffic interchanges, runs 14 miles from one-half mile north of Cook-Lake county line to Foster and Cicero avenues in Chicago.

An expressway differs from other highways in that it offers speed with safety, in that there is no cross traffic except in over, or, under passes; vehicles are physically separated from each other when traveling in opposite directions, and may come onto the expressway only at certain controlled points.

Motorists will be guided by colored concrete, stretching several hundred feet, in certain places to aid them into proper channels at grade separations.

Erickson headquarters for governor opens Monday in Chicago

The kickoff for the opening gun of the "William N. Erickson for Governor" campaign will take place next Monday afternoon with the official opening of a headquarters at 69 West Washington st. in Chicago.

An "Open House" will be held from 3 to 6 p. m. at which time Mr. Erickson will be on hand to greet the visitors. The committee handling the affair extends an invitation to all persons who are interested in Mr. Erickson's candidacy.

Local township committeemen are planning on attending the opening with a delegation of citizens who are intensely interested in seeing a country towns man in the governor's chair.

Walter Hanson leaves Chamber of Commerce for Lattof Motors

Walter Hanson, secretary of Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce, has been doing such a good job of salesmanship in chamber affairs, that Lattof Motor Sales could not resist the temptation to offer him a more lucrative position with that organization.

Wally could not turn down the offer and called a special meeting of the board of directors Tuesday noon at which he tendered his resignation effective January 1. It was regretfully accepted. A special committee will pick a successor.

'Aladdin comes' to life Saturday on church stage

"Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp," will be presented Saturday afternoon, at 2 and 4 o'clock, at the Arlington Heights Methodist church gym.

The fantasy, an adaptation of the fairy tale by the same name, was written by Miss Joan Barry, in collaboration with Paul Breitsprecher, of the Village Theatre. Miss Barry is directing the production, which is being sponsored by the Methodist Stage club. Breitsprecher is technical director for the show. Members of the Village Theatre make up the cast.

Colorful costuming will add to the fairyland effect which surrounds the tale of Aladdin. The entire show was written for the express purpose of delighting the youngsters, and every parent should urge his child to attend.

Tickets are 25 cents. They will be available at the door for both performances.

TORNADO HITS RURAL AREA NORTHEAST OF ARLINGTON

Home decorating contest closes December 18

Deadline for entries in the Christmas home decorating contest sponsored by the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce is December 18. All homes in the area bounded by Wilke rd. to the west, Central rd. to the south, Waterman ave. to the east, and Thomas st. to the north, are eligible to enter.

Three cash prizes will be awarded to the winning home owners. The decorating will be judged on originality, composition and over-all attractiveness. First prize is $25; second, $15, and third, $8.

An entry blank will be found on page 12 of this paper. It must be filled out and mailed or delivered to the Chamber of Commerce office, 113 E. Davis st., by December 18.

Judging will begin at 6:30 p.m., December 21, and all entrants are asked to keep their displays lighted from that hour until 11 p.m.

Stores open evenings

All Arlington Heights stores will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., from December 14-22, with the exception of Sunday. They will not observe their usual Wednesday afternoon closing during this period. Monday, Dec. 24, stores will be open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Tri-State Hwy. paving between Oakton, Central on new road program

Since Cook County took over from the state highway department responsibility for the north extension of Tri-State Highway from Higgins road north, paving and right-of-way plans are being pushed.

Cook County Board last week adopted its 4-year road improvement program in which was included the paving of the Tri-State from Oakton and Higgins to Central road. This route is now in use as Busse road.

The long range program was submitted by Assistant Highway Superintendent William Mortimer in compliance with the decree of the state that counties as well as municipalities must adopt long range planning.

Also included in the program is the widening and resurfacing of Oakton street from Higgins to Sheridan, 15 miles, Irving Park boulevard, Mannheim to River road.

LEARNS PLACING KEYS ABOVE VISOR IS NOT SAFE

Mrs. Alvin A. Werner, 304 S. Walnut st., Arlington Heights, after parking her station wagon on Campbell street Tuesday evening placed the car keys above the sun visor. When she returned she discovered the car had been stolen.

The usual theft alarm was sent out, but the car has not yet been located.

Numerous homes, farms suffer damages from freak windstorm

Several thousand dollars worth of damage resulted from Thursday night's (December 6) wndstorm, which whipped itself into a small tornado, tearing down a barn, garage, grain sheds, huge trees, telephone poles and chimneys before blowing itself out northeast of McHenry rd., Wheeling.

The strong southwest wind picked up volume along Palatine rd., just west of State rd., Arlington Heights, tearing down studs in a new barn being constructed by Pape and Guenther Bros. Traveling northeast it next hit the David Borgardt home on Rand rd., also west of State rd.

"I was home alone at the time," said Mrs. Borgardt, "and didn't realize the intensity of the storm until I heard glass shattering, bricks tumbling off the roof, and the bedroom light fixture crashing to the floor.

"THE WHOLE house vibrated for about two minutes," she continued. "I had let our dog out earlier in the evening and Harry Klowsky of Harry and Sons service station on the corner, was just bringing her home at the time this was happening. He actually crawled in the back door, hanging onto the dog to keep her from being carried away."

Storm windows on the front of the house were lifted right off the windows, the chimney landed in the front yard, and the house shifted a little from its foundation.

From this point it swept across open fields until it hit Buffalo Grove rd., tearing up trees by the roots on the Stavros farm, shifting the roof on the William Schoenbeck house, also carrying away a small shed, and tearing a hole through a wall of a new home of haydite block, which was under construction further down the road.

The maximum velocity of the twister seemed to hit at the Willard Consoer farm, located on Buffalo Grove rd., just south of Dundee rd. A two story barn was flattened, pieces being carried hundreds of feet across the field, along with a chicken coop and granary, as well as uprooting at least a dozen big trees.

"WE COULD hear things crashing all about us," said Consoer, "and as soon as the wind died down a little I went out to see if the roof was off the house. Using a flashlight I could see part of the chimney was toppled, several windows were broken but everything else seemed intact, that is, until I turned around.

"A heap about five feet high lay where once stood our two story barn. Debris was still falling and I looked up at a large tree beside the house only to find it imbedded with pieces of the barn. If it hadn't been for the tree all this would have crashed into the house."

A two by four from the barn was carried to the neighbors, 700 feet away, and imbedded into an old refrigerator standing outside, with such force it was impossible to pull it out.

Fortunately the chicken coop containing the chickens, and the dog house, in which "Fido" was bedded down for the night, were untouched.

CONTINUING on its way the wind picked up three chicken houses and uprooted more trees on the John Reickert farm on Dundee rd. Telephone and public service poles along Dundee rd., were also flattened. Shingles on one side of the Jens Rask home on Dundee rd. and part of the roof were also torn off.

Twisting its way still northeasterly the tornado struck a grove of trees on the W. T. Armstrong property on McHenry rd., and lifted a two car garage off its foundation, smashing it to bits as it carried it across the road.

"The wind was pretty strong and I was concentrating on keeping a bay window from buckling when I noticed my Nash Rambler standing in the yard," said Armstrong. "I was sure I had put it in the garage, so looked again to see if I was seeing things, and much to my amazement saw the tail end of my garage disappearing down the driveway."

THE ARMSTRONGS had quite a few things stored in the garage, the lighter of which were scattered to the four winds. Aluminum doors on the garage were twisted almost beyond recognition. The chimney on their house was also damaged.

According to Mrs. Borgardt the storm hit their house at approximately 7:45 p.m. Armstrong, who lives several miles northeast, said it was around this time when it hit his place, which means all this destruction was done in the matter of minutes.

Earlier Thursday evening a tornado ripped through Spring Valley, Bureau county, approximately 130 miles southwest of here, killing one person and causing considerable property damage.

Exclusive parcel post substation established at National Guard armory

Commencing Friday and continuing until December 22, parcel post packages can be also mailed in Arlington Heights at a substation in the National Guard armory. No stamps will be sold there nor will letters or other mail matter be accepted.

The small quarters at the post-office on Campbell street is already jammed a large part of the day by persons waiting for window service. It is expected that the public will welcome the establishment of the substation, temporary as it must be.

Postal patrons are asked to separate their postcards regardless of the amount of stamps affixed, and place them in the labeled boxes standing in the lobby.

Additional help for the handling of mail has been hired for the Christmas season. Much time can be saved if patrons purchase their stamps in quantity in advance. The post office will be open Wednesday and Saturday afternoons up to and including December 22.

School bond issues delayed by faulty law

Faulty construction of one paragraph in the new school code, effective July 1, is holding up the sale of bonds of many school districts in the state including the three million dollar bond issue of Maine township high school.

The new law is not specific in the qualifications of voters. It does not state that a voter must be a citizen of the United States or that he must be 21 years of age or older.

Mt. Prospect school board had plans completed for a bond issue election in January. A lot of valuable time could be saved if the election is held now on the assumption that the Supreme Court will uphold the constitutionality of the law.

The trouble all started in Hinsdale after the approval of a bond issue. A law firm, aware of the discrepancy in the law, advised a school board to start a friendly suit in the DuPage County Circuit Court. That court held the statute valid.

An appeal to the State Supreme Court is on its January calendar and upon its decision depends the fate of all bond issue elections held since July 1.

Let contract for Dunton street widening

Arlington Heights village board accepted the bid of Milburn Bros. Tuesday night for the widening of Dunton st. from Davis to Sigwalt. The street lighting project will be held in abeyance for a time with hopes that it can be settled before actual construction work on the widening is started next spring.

The delay in the awarding of the contract was occasioned by the village's reluctance to accept as its share more than 30% of the cost. That was the figure originally agreed upon with the property owners.

MILBURN'S BID for the widening is $7,000 above the engineer's estimate. A supplemental assessment will be necessary. Otherwise, the village's share would be 48% of total cost.

Only three tons of steel for reenforcing rods will be required for the paving and it is expected that there will be no difficulty in obtaining that material.

Restrictions in the use of copper may delay the installation of the proposed ornamental street lights. All of the existing lights will be removed in the widening work. Temporary lights may be necessary if electric cable is not obtainable by early next summer.

Arlington Heights revenues more than doubled in seven years

Village Clerk Forest Davis unearthed some interesting figures this week when he compiled a report for the state, which asked a comparison of the cash receipts of the village for the years 1943, 1947 and 1950. Receipts in all departments covered have more than doubled in the last seven years. Taxes have tripled. The 1950 valuation of the village is $23,973,597. In 1943 it was $9,957,452. In 1942 it was only $3,650,589.

Municipal revenues were: 1943—$128,137.05; 1947—$198,725.73; 1950—$269,200.70.

Water department revenue: 1943—$27,559.16; 1947—$45,076.64; 1950—$85,785.82. Thirty thousand of the last figure was received from installation of service to new homes.

Many municipalities are taking advantage of a new statute which authorizes an increased tax rate of 10% above the former legal rate if such an ordinance is passed. Arlington Heights voters authorized an increase in tax rate several years ago, which automatically ended this year unless an ordinance is passed continuing the special rate indefinitely.

Asks citizens to send money for Christmas seals

Christmas Seal "reminders" are being sent out this week to Chicago and Cook county residents who may have forgotten or mislaid their 1951 Christmas Seals.

The reminders, in the form of penny postcards, note that the 45th annual Christmas Seal sale has received generous support from the public, but that still more dollars are needed.

"CHRIISTMAS SEALS fight tuberculosis. Buy and use those sent you," the card says.

Returns through Friday, December 7, mid-way point in the drive, amounted to $300,000.

"In the Christmas rush every year, many people forget to send in their contributions to the tuberculosis campaign," explained Mrs. Elizabeth Imhoff, Seal sale director of the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county. "They want to help our work and intend to do it, but sometimes it slips their mind.

"MANY PEOPLE tuck their Christmas Seals away somewhere in a drawer or desk, and experience has taught us that they appreciate being reminded about the Seals."

Mrs. Imhoff reported that at least 142 Chicago area schools were participating in "Bangle Day" sometime during the week of December 10. As part of the observance, the schools feature programs on tuberculosis, and students are instructed in the importance of caring for their health.

Youth hurt when auto hits pole, explodes

Jack Dale Lund, 21, of 204 S. State rd., Arlington Heights, was injured shortly after midnight Saturday when his auto rammed into a telephone pole in Mt. Prospect.

Lund was dragged from the wreckage of his car, pictured above, minutes before it burst into flames.

Suffering from head injuries and cuts on the face and neck, he was taken to St. Francis hospital at Evanston for treatment. He was later dismissed.

Officers Newell Esmond and Robert Kramer, who investigated, reported that Lund was traveling northwest on Northwest highway and after losing control, crashed into the utility pole on the southside of the highway at George st.

The officers said the youth apparently fell asleep. Arlington Fender and Body Shop cleared the wreckage.

Accidental death in June of Palatine boy brings payment of $1,350

Payment of $1,350 for the accidental death of Fred Herbertz, Jr., on the site of the Arlington Heights high school addition was announced this week by his father, Fred Sr.

Young Herbertz, Palatine high school student, fell from a scaffold June 14 and died immediately. His mother suffered a shock upon being told of his death, and died October 3.

Just two days prior to the death of young Herbertz, his dad had attempted to talk to him into giving up his job, for fear of ruining his promising young pitching arm. He struck out 12 men for Palatine against Elgin the day before his fall, and Roy Henshaw, former Cub pitcher now a co-worker with Mr. Herbertz in Chicago, had offered to help teach young Fred how to pitch.

The younger Herbertz insisted he liked his work, however, and his father gave in.

Art of making holiday flower arrangements shown Newcomers club

What can be done with greens and flowers, other basic equipment such as pottery holders and candles, imagination, an artistic sense, and clever fingers, was demonstrated last Thursday evening by Mrs. Edwin Haberkamp of Mt. Prospect. She made eight Christmas flower arrangements which drew from the Prospect Heights Newcomers' audience "Ahs" of delight at their beauty.

Some of the basic ingredients which Mrs. Haberkamp used to make her exquisite arrangements were the Styrofoam, the modern material which looks like blocks or figures of snow, candles of various types, chicken wire to hold flowers in the proper place in containers, clay to fasten several pieces of the arrangement together, colored glass balls, a new snow spray, silver and gold glitter. Red carnations, Mrs. Haberkamp explained, are her favorite flower for Christmas decoration as they are just the perfect shade of red for this season.

Perhaps the two arrangements which drew the greatest applause from her fascinated audience were the Swedish angel chimes with four white candles on a base with evergreen and pompon chrysanthemums, and the blue and white Madonna with silver glittered candles and white mums and greens to give a heavenly beauty.

Three of the arrangements, which Mrs. Haberkamp generously donated, were taken home by Mrs. Oscar Miller, Mrs. Joseph Clemens, and Mrs. Gilbert Gehrke.

The Newcomers will next meet in January.

Name 1952 March of Dimes chairman in Arlington

Mrs. Charles C. Rehfeldt, 933 N. Patton ave., has been appointed chairman for the 1952 March of Dimes campaign in Arlington Heights it was announced by Charles J. Murphy, Oak Park, chairman of the county communities division of the drive.

This year's March of Dimes campaign must raise more money than ever before in Cook county in order to provide aid to stricken families. Four straight years of peak polio cases have drained the local chapter funds.

Mrs. Rehfeldt heads a special infantile paralysis committee of the Arlington Heights Woman's club which will be active in the drive, beginning January 2 and extending through January 31.

The Big Bores

In the United States there are twenty-eight railway tunnels exceeding one mile in length. Six are in California; three are in Washington State; two each are in New York, Montana, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia; and there is one each in Colorado, Massachusetts, Illinois, Wyoming, Nevada and Oregon. Two others link New York and New Jersey, and one links Michigan and Ontario.

Teachers, PTA members attend school of radio, television instruction

Three members of the Arlington Heights public school teaching staff, Dennis Malcolmson, Albert Wangles, and Donald King, and two representatives of the PTA, Mrs. Frederic Holderman and Mrs. Nat T. Burfeind, attended sessions of the I.C.P.T. state-wide school of radio-television instruction. It was held concurrently with the 15th annual School Broadcast conference at the Sherman hotel in Chicago, Dec. 4, 5, 6.

The School Broadcast conference is a national conference on the utilization of radio and television. It is interested in promoting good radio and television programs and in good use of these media.

The sessions included demonstrations and evaluations of in-school uses of radio, discussions of the techniques of organizing school-wide radio utilization at the elementary and at the high school level, and comprehensive appraisals of the educational use of television. By viewing student demonstrations of the use of in-school radio and by studying the exhibits of student work motivated by radio listening and television viewing, delegates to this conference were able to see at first hand the effectiveness of the use of these modern tools for education.

Leading educators of the nation joined with audio-visual experts to give teachers, school administrators, and parents an over-all picture of the present use of radio and TV in education and a significant appraisal of the contribution these media can make to education in the future.

NEW NEIGHBORS .... IN THE CITY OF GOOD NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. R. Prezbieda

When Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Prezbieda decided they wanted to move out of Chicago, they picked Arlington Heights as the suburb in which they would make their home. Mrs. Prezbieda says she finds it quiet out here after living in Chicago, but she likes it very much.

They moved into their new ranch home at 833 S. Chestnut October 20. Mr. Prezbieda is employed as a salesman by Hed-Wick and Co.

The Prezbiedas have two children, Phillip, who is 6 years old and is in the first grade at the South school, and Richard, who is 3 months old.

Mrs. Prezbieda likes to sew, knit and crochet, and Mr. Prezbieda likes all sports, especially golf and bowling.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Hetke

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hetke moved to 825 N. Chestnut ave., Arlington Heights, from Arcadia, Cal., when Mr. Hetke secured a position as fourth grade instructor at the North school.

Richard Jr., who was born June 1, 1951, is the third member of the Hetke family.

The Hetkes are both interested in art. Mr. Hetke likes to draw and paint, Mrs. Hetke concentrates on water colors.

A member of the local Junior Woman's club, Mrs. Hetke attended Wright Junior college. Mr. Hetke is a graduate of Roosevelt college in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. John Roth

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roth had lived in Arlington some years ago and liked it so well they decided to build their home here. They moved into their new ranch home at 505 N. Dryden August 28. They had previously lived in Chicago.

Two children keep Mrs. Roth busy, but she still has time to belong to two clubs at St. James Catholic church. Daniel John is 4, and Mary Terese is just 17 months old.

Mr. Roth is an electrician employed by the Edison Marquette Co. of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. David Streeff

The David Streeffs moved to Arlington Heights November 1 when Mr. Streeff, who is an engineer for the Public Service Co., was transferred to Evanston. The Streeffs, former residents of Riverdale, Ill., are now living at 720 S. Evergreen ave.

Two children, David, who is 4 years old, and Mary, 2, complete the Streeff household.

Mr. and Mrs. Streeff are graduates of Iowa State college. Mr. Streeff also attended Drake university ,and Mrs. Streeff, Stephens college

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Burnett

New residents now living in the Georgian home at 901 N. Patton, Arlington Heights, are Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Burnett, who moved here August 25 from Lakewood, Ohio. Of all the suburbs of Chicago, the Burnetts liked Arlington the best. They were especially impressed by the schools.

The Burnetts have two daughters, Jean, who is a freshman in high school, and Virginia, 9, a fourth grade student at the North school.

Mr. Burnett, who enjoys playing golf and bowling, is a purchasing agent for the American Marietta Co. Mrs. Burnett is interested in Girl Scout work.

Jackie, a black cocker spaniel, is the family pet.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Garrett

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Garrett, former residents of Mt. Prospect, moved into the four year old ranch home at 615 N. Hickory ave., Arlington Heights, because said Mrs. Garrett, "We found the perfect house for our needs."

The Garretts, who moved here at the end of October, have a son, William Stephan, who is a sophomore in high school.

Mr. Garrett is a county appraiser in the assessor's office.

Mrs. Garrett lists sewing, baking and cooking among her hobbies.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mader

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mader of 1440 E. Kensington ave., Arlington Heights, picked Arlington as the ideal place to live. They moved here from Chicago in August. Mrs. Mader said she enjoyed the park and swimming pool last summer.

Richard Joe, 4, and Judith Ann, 2, complete the Mader family. Richard will attend St. James Catholic school as soon as he is old enough.

Mr. Mader is employed by the Railway Express Co. in Chicago.

Mrs. Mader is also interested in sewing, cooking and baking.

Mugs, a boxer, is the family pet.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dalton

The James Daltons chose the Dutch colonial home at 522 S. Dunton ave. in Arlington Heights as their home because they liked Arlington and wanted a larger home with a basement. They moved here August 15, from Prospect Heights.

The Daltons have a daughter, Marguerite, who is 5 years old and is in kindergarten at the South school.

Mr. Dalton is a purchasing agent for the Helene Curtis Co. The Daltons like to play golf and fish in their spare time and are also interested in the PTA.

Bone White

What is termed as "bone white" finish is produced by tinting white paint with very little raw sienna and raw umber. Applying glazing liquid, slightly tinted with the same coloring matter, over a white background will produce a still better effect.

Past Perfect

The military attire of The United Nations troops fighting in Korea today is drab and unimaginative compared to that of the men of Ancient Greece. The Greek "hoplites" or heavy-armed infantrymen of about the 6th Century B.C. wore lavishly-ornamented breast-plates, greaves (leg armor), and helmets. The shields they carried were often colorful and of elaborate design.

Arlington debate squad off to fine start

by TOM CLEAVER

Arlington high students have good cause to be proud of the good start exhibited by their debate squad. Debate is entirely new at Arlington this year, and for first year debaters these students have done very well. Clayton Mott, the debate coach, has worked diligently and done a commendable job of shaping up the first debate squad in the history of AHTHS.

The first part of the year was spent in preparation for the debate season, which started about the first of December. This preparation consists of gathering material and formulating a case to support the particular individual's side of this year's national high school debate topic: resolved: that all American citizens should be subject to conscription for essential service in time of war.

The first inter-school debate in the history of Arlington Heights township high school took place December 21, when Charles Knapp and Tom Cleaver took the negative stand against two Evanston students in an AHTHS assembly. This debate was awarded to Arlington Heights. One week later, December 28, Dan Walton and Kermit Ford traveled to Evanston to debate Evanston's negative team. Evanston won this second contest.

DECEMBER 1, the debate squad, accompanied by Mr. Mott, journeyed to the University of Illinois at Champaign to attend the annual debater's workshop. Here they attended lectures and discussion groups in which the various issues were explained. They also witnessed a demonstration debate in which they were shown how to put the things they had learned to use.

The year's first tournament for the AHTHS squad was held at Illinois State Normal university. In the varsity section, Arlington won four rounds and lost the same number, placing them in a tie for tenth place in a field of 17. Each team debated four rounds. The affirmative team, composed of Dan Walton and Kermit Ford, defeated Shelbyville and University high of Normal, while losing to Elgin and Lincoln. The negative team, Kay Bressner and Tom Cleaver, chalked up wins over Pekin and Kewanee and lost to Geneseo and Woodruff of Peoria.

First place in the varsity section ended in a tie between Geneseo and Mendota, both of whom won seven out of eight rounds. The reserve section of the Normal tournament saw Arlington landing in a tie for third in a field of seven by winning three out of eight rounds. The reserve affirmative team, Rodney Peltier and Jay Bressner, beat Woodruff of Peoria, but lost to Galesburg, Lincoln, and Pekin.

CAROL Hedemark and Joyce Nilsson, representing the negative, were victorious over Galesburg and Freeport, while losing to Mendota and Woodruff of Peoria. The reserve tournament also ended in a tie, this time between Freeport and Mendota, with six and two records. Teams in the tournament other than those already mentioned include Petersburg, Streator, Mattoon, and Dwight. Individual certificates, denoting ratings of excellent, were awarded to Dan Walton, Tom Cleaver and Carol Hedemark. The varsity team received a team rating of excellent which was the highest rating given.

December 15, the debate squad will enter another tournament, this time at Northern Illinois State Teachers college, DeKalb. Arlington Heights has joined the Metropolitan Debate league, composed of teams from the Chicago area, and will participate in five tournaments sponsored by this league. In addition, a number of other tournaments are scheduled, including one to be held at Arlington Heights.

The debate squad, under the direction of Clayton Mott, welcomes any request for demonstration debates, either among the squad members or with other schools.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

Children of Arlington Heights will not soon forget the legend of "Sleeping Beauty," as presented last year by the Village Theatre—even those who didn't actually get to see the show have heard their contemporaries talk so much about the play that they are almost as familiar with it themselves.

This Saturday these same boys and girls will have the opportunity to see the theatre group's second venture into children's entertainment when they present "Aladdin" at the Methodist church. There will be two one hour-long performances, one at 2 p.m. and the other at 4 p.m. Tickets at 25 cents each are being sold at the schools this week and any remaining—last year these were mighty few will be available at the door.

"Aladdin," which was written —from the famous fairy tale—by Miss Joan Barry and Paul Breitsprecher, two members of the Village Theatre, tells the traditional story of the Wonderful Lamp. It tells how the Lamp is given to Aladdin in return for his kindness to an old lady, how it is spirited from his home by the wicked Sly Lo—and, of course, how Aladdin and the beautiful princess live happily ever after.

Miss Barry is staging the play with Mr. Breitsprecher as technical director. Scene details are done in a colorful oriental manner and there is an interesting musical backgorund.

The large cast includes both familiar faces and newcomers to Village Theatre productions, with Joseph Crittenden and his son, Davey, playing the villain, Sly Lo, and Aladdin, respectively. Mrs. Carl Scheske is the Princess Lotus Peteal, Walter Edelblute, the Emperor; Mrs. Richard Daley, Aladdin's mother; Joseph Tomlinson, the Lord High Executioner; and Mrs. Walter Edelblute as Willing Hands, and also Mrs. James McElhose—in a vital role —, Mrs. Robert Hutchinson, Mrs. Dennis Malcolmson, Mrs. John Sullivan as well as tumblers and dancers trained by Delores Eiler.

Mrs. Robert Marsh is business manager, representing both the Stage club, sponsors of the play, and the Village Theatre. On her staff are Mrs. Richard Bronwell, Miss Vera Folkman, Mrs. G. E. Staahl and Dennis Malcolmson. And they'll be ready for the onrush of youngsters come Saturday afternoon.

Mob scene

When Santa arrived in Arlington Heights last Friday he was greeted by literally swarms of youngsters, all mighty impressed by the bright new suit, and by his arrival in a glamorous fire truck.

Santa made his headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce office and greeted the boys and girls who stopped by to talk to him the rest of that day and during the evening. He left Friday night, but he'll be back this Friday to stay until the twenty-fourth.

Deadline soon

Deadline for the Chamber of Commerce Christmas home decorating contest is Monday and every one who wants to enter his home into the competition for the monetary prize or simply for the sake of the honor of winning must send in an entry blank by then.

A blank is found in the paper this week, and must be returned to the Chamber offices. Judging will be done between 6:30 and 11 p.m. December 21, and displays must be kept lighted throughout this evening in order to be sure of being seen by the committee.

Home from trip

Mrs. James R. Legg and children, Barbara and Jimmy, returned last week after spending two weeks in Los Angeles, Cal., visiting Mrs. Legge's brother.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Hanna have just returned from a three week vacation in Phoenix, Ariz.

Students to give holiday program at next PTA meeting

As traditional as Christmas is the holiday program put on by Arlington Heights grade school and Junior high students for their parents at the regular PTA meeting at the South school gymnasium Tuesday, December 19, at 8 p. m.

The first half of the program will be under the direction of Harold Brunt, who will lead his 10 5piece band in several numbers both in the Christmas theme as "Santa Claus is Coming to Town," and classical selections such as "Liebestraume."

Miss Vivian Erwin, director of chorus, will present 60 boys and girls in the singing of old and new carols for the second half of the program. Also featured will be a special number by 11 boys and another selection by the girls' sextet.

Decoration for the evening will be in charge of Mrs. Kay Campbell, art teacher.

'Cardinals of the Air' change program time; weekly show in offing

The "Cardinals of the Air," a 15 minute FM radio program by students of the Arlington Heights high school radio workshop, heard bi-weekly over WEAW-FM, has had a change in time.

The Christmas program, December 17, will be broadcast from 7:30 to 7:45 p. m. Formerly programs were heard on Fridays at 6:30 p. m. The New Year's program, December 31, will also begin at 7:30 p. m.

Beginning January 14, "Cardinals of the Air" will be heard every Monday from 7:30 to 7:45 p. m.

DECEMBER 7 the radio workshop class gave an outstanding presentation of a memorable date in the history of our country.

This time the date was not exactly a happy one. The bombing of Pearl Harbor and the events which followed are not happy things to remember; yet they are incidents which none of us can afford to forget.

The script was written by Carol Heiss in a narrative fashion. Each member of the class taking a well known event in the war and then describing it. The program was very authentic even to the point of playing the recording of F.D.R.'s request to Congress for a declaration of war.

THE CHRISTMAS program, to be broadcast December 17, was written by Charlotte Johnston and is a picture of the true Christmas spirit.

The title of the program is "Angel In The Looking Glass." The story revolves around a small girl who is an angel in a school Christmas play. She herself cultivates the true Christmas spirit through one of her lines in the play: (Behold, I bring tidings of great joy, peace on earth, good will toward men.)

Through her innocence in reciting this line she cultivates the true Christmas spirit in everybody to whom she talks.

THE PROGRAM for the New Year, to be presented by the radio class December 31, is based on an idea used many times but one which will never wear out.

The idea being that of Father Time introducing the new year as a small baby and explaining to him about all the mistakes that were made by his ancestors in the year just past. It is an idea which we all can certainly afford to remember.

Select Beets

Bunched beets should be medium sized and uniform in size, and they should be smooth, and free from cracks, decay and insect damage.

Howard Hyde wins Arlington camera club print contest

by ARNOLD HATCH

Twelve members of Arlington Heights camera club were not deterred in the least by a torrential downpour in their intention to meet December 6 at Community Camera studios, 114 N. Evergreen ave., Arlington Heights, to participate in the club's semi-monthly activities and enjoy an evening of good fellowship.

Lew Green extends an invitation to all serious minded photographers to participate in club activities. Purpose is to raise the standards of prints and have a lot of fun doing it.

Two classes, continued Lew, have been organized. The "A" class includes members, doing advanced work, Green, Hyde, Raymond, Stahl, Smiley, Rinker and Chas Stadelman, and the "B" class includes novices, among them Hatch, Davis, Dockery, Cox, Otzen, Smith, Sadecky, Wyatt and Paul Stadelman. Green and Rinker invite any novice to call them on the phone and plan an evening in their darkroom where they can go through the entire process of making a "Saloon" print. A first hand demonstration in darkroom technique is of inestimable value to the beginner and teaches him how to avoid costly waste while working with 11 by 14 inch paper and 16 by 20 inch mounts.

In the competition five prints were entered in Class A and three in Class B, with these results:

Class A

1st—Fisherman's Shack by Howard Hyde.
2nd—Cow Boy by Lew Green.
3rd—Whittling by Charles Stadelman.
4th—Boat Study by Charles Stadelman.
5th—Deserted Barn by Irv Rinker.

Class B

1st—Silo by Arnold Hatch.
2nd—Freight Car Study by Paul Stadelman.
3rd—Rural Road by Paul Stadelman.

Howard Hyde, program chairman, suggested an architectural jaunt to the loop in downtown Chicago for Sunday morning, December 16, which was unanimously approved on condition the weather is suitable. The second meeting, December 21, for this month will be spent viewing colored slides. Projectors will be on hand.

Geo. L. Pfingsten to be installed as High Priest Palatine RAM chapter

Geo. L. Pfingsten, 436 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights, will be installed as excellent high priest of Palatine Chapter No. 206 RAM at a public installation Thursday evening. Members of Bethel Commandery will act as escort.

Other officers to be installed are: David Wennerstend, king; Henry Sass Jr., scribe; Harold M. Hart, treasurer; Herman Sass Sr., secretary; Geo. Landwer, chaplain; Wm. S. Arnold, CH; Robt. Prest, PSJ; Burkett A. Davis, RAC; Howard Voss, 3rd V; Elmer Thorsen, 2nd V; Albert DePue, 1st V; Arvid Carlson, steward; Chas. Carlson, assistant; Gustave Roessler, tyler.

Installing officers will be Geo. Nicoloff, Chicago; Rudolph Koehler, Barrington; Cecil T. Ryner, Barrington, and Alfred Jasper, Arlington Heights.

'Winterize your driving as well as your car' warns Chief Skoog

Chief of Police Carl H. Skoog warned motorists that winter, with its increasing accident rate, is just around the corner, and coupled his warning with an admonition that now is the time to get cars ready for winter driving.

"SOMETIME THIS winter," he said, "The millionth person will be killed as the result of a traffic accident, according to the National Safety Council. A little care now may keep you from being one in a million. There are definite things you can do right now, before winter comes, to prevent injury to yourself or others."

He listed them as follows:

1. Be sure your windshield wiper blades and defroster are in good working order. You can't drive safely if you can't see clearly.

2. Check your brakes to be sure they are equalized. Faulty brakes breed skids.

3. See that your tire chains are in good condition, or get them if you have none. Chainless vehicles on ice or snow often result in skid-wrecks and traffic tie-ups, not to mention cases of heart attacks from pushing stalled cars.

IN ADDITION, Chief Skoog advised motorists when starting out on slippery streets to get the "feel" of the road surface, and to reduce speed when roads are snowy or icy. "Winterize your driving habits as well as your car" he said.

"When stopping, a pumping action on the brake pedal will stop you straighter, with less risk of a skid, than steady pressure which may lock your wheels. With locked wheels, a car which has started to slide is completely out of control. Snythetic rubber tires, once again being widely used, do wear better and perform normally on wet or dry pavements. They skid farther and have considerably less tractive ability, however, on snow or ice than natural rubber tires."

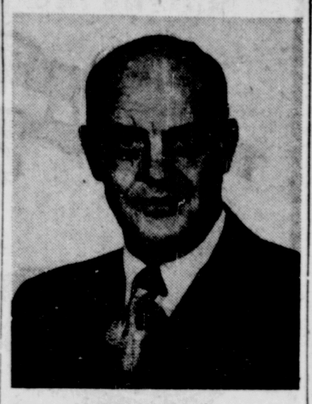
Retires from Sears



Marshall A. Blu, who lives at 741 W. Lincoln, Mt. Prospect, has retired this week from Sears, Roebuck and Co. where he has been director of tool and hard lines production development since 1935.

A native of Indiana, Mr. Blu has spent 36 years in the tool and production engineering field as a teacher and engineer. He joined Sears 16 years ago and helped to design and develop many of the company's household products.

Following an extended vacation in Florida, Mr. Blu will become a consulting engineer.

Mr. Blu is married and the father of a daughter, Karen. The family has lived in Mt. Prospect since 1943.

Hostess at Christmas party in Chicago

Mrs. George Edgcumbe of Mt. Prospect will be a hostess at the annual Christmas party to be held at Lawrence Hall, a home for boys from broken homes at 4833 N. Francisco ave., Chicago, Wednesday, December 19. Mrs. Robert Schiller of Mt. Prospect is president of the woman's board of Lawrence Hall, which is sponsoring the dinner and entertainment for nearly 100 boys living at the hall.

Each hostess will provide the decorations and gifts for boys at her table. In addition, gifts furnished by the board of directors will be placed under the Christmas tree and distributed during the evening.

Bishop Wallace E. Conkling will be guest of honor. Special guests will be husbands of members of the woman's board of Lawrence Hall, and wives of the members of the board of directors.

Rescued Refrigerators

At one time manufacturers received complaints because children and grownups would bump into refrigerators with their toys and packages and the refrigerator coating would be chipped. To solve the problem, industrial finish designers developed a special finish that has extreme flexibility so that, when the refrigerator is banged, the finish bends with the metal.

Offer reward for those stealing from Palatine transportation system

Theft of equipment of Palatine transportation system was announced this week by Marvin Plate with posting of a $100 reward for information leading to arrest and conviction of persons involved. Plate reported missing air horns from the tow truck, aerials from buses, and other damage to the vehicles over the week end.

High school Girls' club plans Yule dinner for December 18

The Girls' club of Arlington Heights township high school will hold its annual Christmas dinner in the high school cafeteria from 5 to 8:30 Tuesday, December 18. The Girls' club is composed of every girl enrolled at the high school, and more than 400 are expected to attend the dinner.

Joyce Jannusch, president of the club, has charge of the entertainment. Darlene Collard will present a vocal number, Pat Arend will read from the Scriptures, and a quartet composed of Joyce Drewes, Hazel Mueller, Lois Goyke, and Betsey Jarrett will sing a group of Christmas carols and lead the girls in singing.

Fran Zollner, vice-president of the club, has charge of the favors for the dinner; Carol Hoffie, secretary, has charge of the set-up committee. Janet Packard, secretary, has charge of the table decorations, and Myra Landmeier, freshman representative, has charge of tree decorations.

Each girl in school who wants to work on a committee is asked to sign up for the committee of her choice.

Incense and Religion

Incense has been associated with religion since the dawn of history, and was burned in the temples of Egypt and India frequently according to references in both the Old and New Testaments.

JUST DOGS

That time of year is here again when many people start thinking about the puppy they intend to buy for the youngsters and as usual there will be discussions regarding what kind of a dog, color, and a host of other ideas put forth by various members of the family.

Your dog editor's thoughts on the subject are, of course, somewhat well defined, however, a few thoughts to pass along regarding a Christmas puppy might be in order.

In the first place the type or breed of dog should be governed by a person's own ideas except that in buying a puppy which at the start is rather small and then starts to grow and grow, it should be kept in mind that it is not wise or fair to the dog to buy one which when fully grown must be confined to a space the size of a postage stamp. In other words don't buy a large dog if you have a small area in which to keep him—he needs a little room to roam.

The subject of the care of the dog will of course be taken care of by the small fry for at least Christmas day and a week or so thereafter, however, there soon comes a time when Dad or Mother has to step in and take over the job—at least in some cases. This of course means that the dog's coat and how that has to be handled enters the picture. If juite long it has to be brushed to keep it in good shape—and as an added thought some folks brush out their dog's coat, especially if a long haired dog, every day.

Favorites for Flavor

By LOIS SEILER

A traditional yuletide food in most Scandinavian households is Jule Kage, a Norwegian Christmas bread.

More like a coffee cake than a bread, Jule Kage contains citron and raisins and is flavored with cardamom seeds.

Mrs. E. H. Laurin of 700 S. Beverly lane, Arlington Heights, bakes this bread for her family every year at Christmas time.

The recipe she uses originated with her Norwegian ancestors and has been in the family for generations.

She serves this bread at breakfast, and in many Norwegian families it is served with afternoon coffee.

"This recipe may sound like a lot of work, but it really isn't," Mrs. Laurin says with assurance.

As a helpful hint in making the bread, she suggests that all of the ingredients be at room temperature. This makes the dough easier to work with and assures more successful results.

The recipe makes three loaves of Jule Kage and if kept in a cool place the bread will stay fresh for a week.

Jule Kage

2 cups milk
1¼ cups butter
2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 small cakes yeast
½ cup warm water
3 cups flour
15 cardamom seeds ground fine or 1 rounded teaspoon
3 eggs beaten well
1 cup minced citron
1½ cups seeded raisins
7 cups flour

Scald the milk and add to it the softened butter. When the butter has melted in the milk, add the sugar and salt. Let cool.

Dissolve the yeast in the warm water and add it and three cups of flour to the mixture. Beat well.

Let the dough rise one hour in a warm place. Then add cardamom, floured fruit, well beaten eggs and just enough flour to handle. (This dough should not be stiff.)

Kneed thoroughly and let rise until light. Stir down and kneed gently. Then fill bread tins ½ full.

Then let rise again until double in bulk. Bake in hot (400 degree) oven 10 minutes.

Reduce heat to moderate (325 degrees) and bake about 40 minutes or until none of the dough clings to a tester.

Presbyterians open Yule season with vesper service

The First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights will open the Christmas season with a vesper service Sunday afternoon, December 16. It will be a candlelight service in the sanctuary, composed of scripture readings, hymns, and anthems sung by all three of the church choirs. The service, which begins at 4:30, is open to the public.

Rev. Brown, minister, and Richard Zabriskie, student assistant, will read the scriptures telling the joyous occasion of the Saviour's birth. The story will be augmented and amplified by music with Mrs. Richard Lull at the organ.

Music for the service will be sung by the congregation as well as by the adult, youth and junior choirs, under the direction of Miss Roberta King.

Junior Tuxis boys will usher and take part in the lighting of the candles.

Junior Woman's club to sponsor annual bake sale

Coffee cake for Sunday morning brunch, cookies for the children's cookie jar, a pie for Saturday night's supper—all these and more will be available at the bake sale sponsored by the Arlington Heights Junior Woman's club December 15. The sale will be held at Shelkop's Radio and Television store, 10 W. Campbell st., and will begin at 9 a. m. Saturday.

This is a Seventh District project and proceeds from the sale will be divided betwen two worthwhile philanthropies — the occupational therapy fund and the Trail Rangers.

The occupational therapy fund has been established to help underwrite the education of some qualified girl who is interested in becoming a therapist.

The Trail Rangers is an organization that works for the rehabilitation of wayward boys. A home-like lodge is maintained for such boys where they receive the necessary counsel and guidance from well-qualified men and women.

General chairman for the bake sale is Mrs. J. Porter Gardner Jr. of Mt. Prospect.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Niemeyer of 116 S. Chestnut, Arlington Heights, announce the engagement of their daughter, Dawn, to Thomas C. Kouras of 311 S. Dunton ave., Arlington Heights.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Yultide theme to highlight Senior Ball

Arlington Heights township high school will hold the first of its two annual formal balls December 22 from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. in the high school gym.

Decorations, featuring the Yuletide theme, will be kept a secret until the night of the Senior Ball. All high school students and alumni are invited. The Dreamlighters of Chicago will furnish the music.

Tickets will be available at the door.

Gayle Rascher and Jackie Luehring are in charge of the decorations. Other committee chairmen are: Pat Arend and Priscilla Brif, publicity; Jay Vawter and Tom Cleaver, tickets and bids, and LeRoy Fredricks, clean-up. Robert Kemman, senior advisor, will be the faculty sponsor for the Senior Ball.

AAUW to entertain Mexican children at Christmas party

"Sharing Christmas With Others" will be the theme of the December 15 meeting of the Northwest Suburban Branch of the American Association of University Women. Instead of the regular evening meeting for December, the group will give a Christmas party for the children of migrant Mexican-American farm workers who are remaining in this area throughout the winter months.

All members and their children are invited to help entertain the Mexican children. The party will be held December 15 from 2 to 4 p. m. at St. Martin's Episcopal church in Des Plaines.

Mrs. R. H. Morehart and her committee, Mesdames A. J. Prickett, G. R. Perrill, L. C. Hedberg and R. C. Bade, have planned a program to delight the youngsters. Theme will be Christmas music, games, a puppet show and, of course, a visit from Santa Claus.

For the last four years the Northwest Suburban Branch of AAUW has conducted a summer school for the children of migrant Mexican-American farm workers.

Puppies and guppies in limelight at Christmas party

Guppies and puppies were in the limelight of the Christmas tree at last Friday's Presbyterian Young Maried Couples' club Christmas party in Arlington Heights.

A progressive grab bag gift exchange, which followed the potluck supper, turned hilarious when one be-ribboned basket netted the drawer two tiny puppies and another red-tissue package turned out to be a bowlful of guppies.

The other 40 gifts in the exchange were more lively than live, and the pups went back home with their owner, Mrs. William Salzman.

Art study group plans diversified meeting Tuesday

The art study group of the Arlington Heights Woman's club will meet at the home of Mrs. Chester J. Moore, 620 N. Highland ave. Tuesday, December 18.

The china painting workshop, which was introduced at the November meeting, was so enthusiastically received that it is being continued at this meeting, and the entire morning, beginning at 9:30, will be devoted to this project.

In the afternoon, beginning at 1:30, the group will hear a talk by the hostess, Mrs. Moore, on Christmas art and decorations. Members will exhibit novel Christmas decorations, and a prize will be awarded for the most artistically wrapped gift package, which should contain either a 'white elephant' or some article worth no more than 10 cents.

There will be a report on the tour which Mrs. Robert J. Marsh, Mrs. J. Edward Middleton and Mrs. Edward Raichert made in conjunction with the Seventh District of the Federation of Women's Clubs on the occasion of the sixtieth annual American Exhibit of Painting and Sculpture at the Art Institute on November 1st.

Co-hostess for the afternoon will be Mrs. John H. Kehe.

Republican women devote December meeting to holidays

Politics will be put aside for the December 17 meeting of the Wheeling Township Regular Republican Woman's club, which will devote the evening to the Christmas theme.

The social meeting, beginning at 8 p. m. at the Arlington Hts. field house, is open to members and guests. A floral demonstration, centered around the Christmas motif, will be given by Harold Busse of Busse Florists in Mt. Prospect. A 30 minute film in harmony with the Yule season will also be shown.

The holiday floral pieces made during the demonstration, will be given away at the close of the meeting. Refreshments will also be served.

Brownie troop holds installation

Girl Scout troop 30, a new Brownie troop of second-graders, held their investiture ceremony Wednesday morning at the Arlington Heights field house. Mrs. Judson Mohl is troop 30 leader. Co-leaders are Mrs. Ray Walton and Mrs. E. Carle.

Mothers of the new troop members were guests at the installation ceremony in which the girls received their Brownie pins, making them official Girl Scouts. Refreshments were served after the ceremony.

The nine new scouts include Raydell Walton, Janice Tierney, Susan Carle, Pat Ekeberg, Penny Lee Fink, Karen Ann Hensel, Leslie Kellogg, Margaret Moeller and Susan Mohl.

Couple marry recently in double ring ceremony

In a double ring ceremony October 20, Miss Lauretta Matysak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Matysak of Northbrook, became the bride of Robert P. Mantas, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Mantas of Des Plaines.

Rev. Fechner officiated at the ceremony held at 4 p. m. at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, West Northfield. The church was decorated with baskets of white mums and gladioli.

The bride wore a gown of white slipper satin and chantilly lace fashioned with long sleeves French illusion veil trimmed and a scalloped neckline. Her with lace was held in place by a lace crown. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and baby mums with a white orchid center.

Miss Barbara Matysak, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of bronze lace and net over taffeta and carried a heart shaped bouquet of yellow mums trimmed with orchid ribbons. Her heart shaped net bonnet was tied with a bow at the chin.

Miss Irene Kutz of Palatine and Mrs. Tommye Jean Snyder of Twin Lakes, Wis., were the bridesmaids. Miss Evelyn Matysak, sister of the bride, was a junior bridesmaid, and the Misses Nancy and Andrea Matysak, sisters of the bride, were the flower girls. They wore orchid gowns of lace and net over taffeta and carried heart shaped bouquets of yellow mums with bronze ribbons.

The mother of the bride wore a navy blue crepe dress trimmed with lace and navy blue accessories. The mother of the groom wore a black crepe dress trimmed with net and black accessories. Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

Bill Lautz of Des Plaines was best man. Gordon Stade of Palatine, Ronald Snyder of Twin Lakes, Wis., and Jack Storn of Des Plaines, cousin of the groom, were the ushers. Andrew Matysak Jr., brother of the bride, was the ring bearer.

A reception for 300 guests was held in the American Legion hall in Northbrook at 8 p. m.

The couple took a two-week wedding trip through the south and are now making their home on Sanders rd. in Northbrook.

Circle 7 will meet at the home of Miss Gertrude Adam, 304 E. Euclid. Mrs. Walter J. Meyer will be co-hostess.

Evelyn Goeddeke becomes bride of Jack Brandt

Community Camera

In a candlelight ceremony December 8 Miss Evelyn Goeddeke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Goeddeke of Roselle, became the bride of Jack Brandt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erwing Brandt of Barrington.

Rev. E. Bergstraesser officiated at the double ring ceremony held at Evangelical Immanuel church, Bensenville, at 7 p. m. Baskets of white flowers decorated the altar. Miss Marilyn Heinrich, the soloist, was accompanied by Mrs. Herman Magers at the organ.

The bride wore a white slipper satin gown trimmed with lace and fashioned with a net yoke, fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves and a long train. Her fingertip length lace veil was held in place by a satin crown headpiece trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations with an orchid center.

Miss Marilyn Heide of Roselle was the maid of honor. She wore an orchid satin gown fashioned with a lace bolero, and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations.

Miss Donna Harden of Chicago and Miss Lorraine Heinrich of Bensenville were the bridesmaids. Miss Patricia Horn of Bensenville, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. The bridesmaids wore gowns identical to that of the matron of honor and carried cascade bouquets of red carnations. The flower girl wore an orchid gown trimmed with lace and carried a small bouquet of yellow carnations.

The mother of the bride wore a royal blue crepe dress, and the groom's mother wore a black crepe dress. Both wore orchid corsages.

Arthur Lutsow was best man. Harold Goeddeke, brother of the bride, and Donald Brandt, brother of the groom, were the ushers. Richard Brandt, nephew of the groom, was the ringbearer.

A reception for 350 guests was held at the Elk Grove school immediately following the ceremony.

The young couple are making their home at 5537 Christiana st., Chicago.

Directs fantasy

Miss Joan Barry, who is directing the fantasy, "Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp" to be presented Saturday, at 2 and 4 p.m., in the Arlington Heights Methodist church. The show is being produced by the Village Theatre, under the sponsorship of the Methodist Stage club.

Some of the spirited Christmas carols residents of Arlington Hts. will hear over the public address system in the business district were recorded by members of the Arlington Heights chapter of SPEBSQSA, the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc.

Under the leadership of Joseph Bryson, more than 30 members of the Arlington chapter recorded four carols, "Joy to the World," "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," "O Come, All Ye Faithful," and "Silent Night."

The last number features a solo by Walter Daube. The four carols recorded will be transcribed at 8:30 p. m. December 18.

The Arlington chapter will act as hosts at a Ladies' night function at the American Legion hall in Arlington Heights December 13 for members and their invited guests.

The group meets Monday at 8 p. m. in the field house. New candidates for membership are always welcome, according to George Glow, chapter president.

To present 'Christmas Carol' at Yule party

Eastwood Community Association of Arlington Heights will hold its Christmas party at the field house December 15 from 3 to 5 p. m.

The film, "The Christmas Carol," will be presented through the courtesy of Lauterburg and Oehler funeral home.

Santa will deliver Christmas gifts to the children, and there will be ice cream and pop for the youngsters with coffee and cookies for adults.

Tell betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Klaus of Elm lane, Arlington Heights, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth, to Calvin Loomis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Loomis of Wauconda.

Mr. Loomis is completing his final year at Northern Illinois State Teachers' college, DeKalb, Ill.

Organize teams for maternity center drive

Mrs. Donald H. Shaw and Mrs. Douglas Smith, both of Arlington Heights, already are organizing the teams which they will lead in the 1952 membership drive of the Chicago maternity center. The drive will be held in February.

Every year teams throughout Chicago and its suburbs seek 1,000 new members for the center. Funds collected during the campaign help the center carry on its teaching and medical program.

In 1950, more than 300 doctors and medical students were given obstetrical training by the world-famous maternity clinic, located at 1336 S. Newberry ave., Chicago. The babies of nearly 4,000 needy expectant mothers were delivered in their homes.

High school departments unite to produce elaborate concert

Another touch of Christmas came to Arlington Heights Sunday at 4 p. m. when the curtain opened to reveal the cathedral scene designed by Rodney Peltier as the setting for the high school Christmas concert.

The six part program, presented by the music, dramatics and girls' physical education departments, was the most elaborate production ever staged at Arlington high.

The choir singing was highlighted by soloist Jim Whitelaw. Part two dramatized the traditional "Night Before Christmas" complete with Santa coming down through the fireplace!

Part three, with the orchestral accompaniment of music from Tschaikowsky's Nutcracker Suite, featured modern dancing — a brand new activity taught by Miss Patricia Schipper as part of her gym classes. Dancing carried out the theme of part four with mechanical toys dancing in Toyland.

Part five, the story of Christmas, was a tableau with a musical background. One setting was changed four times just by manipulation of the lighting.

The thrilling Hallelujah chorus, participated in by the entire music department, brought to an end an impressive concert.

Even the programs were elaborate—fancy, three-color jobs with beautiful etchings, which took a week to make. Many people deserve orchids for their many months of work, but a whole bouquet goes to the man who planned and directed the production. He is the very capable head of the music department, Fredrick C. Schmoyer.

Holiday party to highlight meeting of Nurses' club

The Arlington Heights Nurses' club will hold its annual Christmas party Thursday, December 20, at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. F. R. Schwanke, 415 E. Rockwell st., Arlington Heights.

Co-hostesses will be Mrs. P. A. Duderstadt, Mrs. F. A. Weber, Mrs. J. Raffel, Mrs. J. L. Drake, Mrs. J. C. Kent and Mrs. Edward J. Corcoran.

Following the short business meeting there will be a surprise treat, exchange of gifts and the revealing of secret pals.

Christen daughter at home Sunday

Martha Joy Finnegan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Finnegan of Bensenville, was baptized at home December 9 at 7 p.m. Rev. Luther V. Stephan, pastor of St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, officiated.

Mrs. Roberta Speidel of Bensenville, Mrs. Shirley Kranz of Arlington Heights and John Landmeier of Bensenville were the child's sponsors.

Refreshments were served to the sponsors and members of the family following the ceremony.

Mary Brewer, Ronald Miske exchange vows

At. St. Mary's Priest house, Des Plaines, Miss Mary Brewer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James V. Brewer of Forest River, became the bride of Ronald Miske, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jules Miske of Forest River. The ceremony was performed at 1 p. m. Thanksgiving day, with Father Maginot reading the service.

The bride wore a blue ballerina lace dress of strapless style with net over the shoulders. She wore a pink headpiece and gloves. Her sister, Monica, was her only attendant, and she wore a dress styled like the bride's, but in pale green. Jules Miske, brother of the groom, was best man.

A family dinner was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bridegroom was on five-day pass from his duties with the USAF at Manchester, N. H. His bride will join him there soon.

St. John's church guild to hold party at Legion home

Taking the place for December of the regular monthly meeting of the Evening Guild of St. John's Episcopal church, Mt. Prospect, will be the Guild's annual Christmas party at the Arlington Heights American Legion hall, 121 N. Douglas ave., near the field house, December 19 at 8 p. m. It was originally planned to hold the affair at the Mt. Prospect village hall.

The program committee of the Guild, of which Mrs. John F. Havard is chairman, held a meeting December 6 at Mrs. Havard's home to make final plans for the Christmas party. The committee has announced that the feature attraction of the evening's entertainment will be the barbershop quartet, who are known as The Four Hoarsemen and represent the Arlington Hts. Chapter of the SPEBSQSA. Members of The Four Hoarsemen are: Stan Myers, Fred Jasper, Dan Krebsback and Barney Erickson. Additional entertainment will be furnished by members of the Guild.

All those who wish to do so are asked to bring a small gift and the material necessary for wrapping it. These gifts will be collected by the deaconesses of the Chicago Diocese of the Episcopal church and distributed by them to hospitalized men and women in Episcopal supported institutions.

In the past, children's gifts have been collected on this occasion but the deaconesses have requested that this year things be brought for older people. Suggestions for the gifts include useful things such as soap, facial tissues or toothpaste; also games older people can play, such as checkers; and cosmetic items such as toilet water or hand lotion.

Hostesses for the occasion Wednesday will be the Board of the Evening Guild, assisted by Mrs. George Adam, one of the Guild's past presidents, with special refreshments being brought by Miss Miles.

Newest Jewelry Metal

Palladium is a new jewelry metal as compared to gold which was used for jewelry thousands of years ago. Jewelry craftsmen eliminate excess weight from ear clips, brooches, etc., by using palladium.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

"I Will Light Three Candles for Christmas," is the title of a beautiful meditation by Howard Thurman, in the current issue of "Opening Doors," which is a magazine the Presbyterian church publishes for teachers and parents of primary children. If you know a Presbyterian family with a child of six, seven or eight years, you might ask to read it.

There are three other candles that are frequently lit for Christmas. They might be called candles more properly than the reasons Thurman assigns for lighting his candles. Their life is briefer, and their light is weaker.

WE SHALL LIGHT the candle of little children. In churches everywhere, little children are now preparing the scenes and plays which remind us afresh of the nativity of the Lord Jesus. They shall have their brief, bright hour when they interpret for us the best Gift given to men. Their little voices will tell us of the meaning of love; their little gestures and actions will remind us that "a little child shall lead them." But don't be discouraged: soon matters will be back on an even keel; parents will again be tired and have headaches, children will soon be noisy and argumentative and disobedient.

We shall light the candle of beautiful music. Choirs in churches across the land are preparing the great hymns of the Christmas season. For crowded churches they will soon sing the Gloria in Excelsis. Voices in congregations—possibly with more gusto than pitch — will unite in "Silent Night." The faithful of a congregation and their pastors may be filled with hope and inspiration. But matters will return to normal. Soon you may sing, "Holy, Holy, Holy" in your accustomed numbers. A candle is poor competition for a dynamo and a string of transformers.

And we shall light a candle for the spirit of good will which pervades the air at Christmas time. Everybody loves his brother on Christmas Eve and Christmas day. Joy and brightness fill almost every life. Dark streets are transformed by lights on trees and porches; cheerful wreathes on doors say, Welcome, all the best of everything to you. In a week or so, gossip may rear its ugly head again. The rat race that we have named modern civilization may begin afresh. We can go back to forgetting the men in Korea and all the forsaken host of mankind who need a brother's love.

THREE CANDLES that may glow and shine for a moment, then flicker and die—burnt out. We shall replace them next year.

With Christmas, we were given the Light of the World. How sad that we should be content with temporary candles when the Light is freely offered. How tragic that so many of us are what Milton Mayer calls (in the December "Better Homes and Gardens") "Christmas - only Christians." There is so much joy and good will and friendly feeling at Christmas-time, why lock it up for 364 days every year, except in Leap Year when it is 365?

"I am come a Light into the World," said Jesus. And John the Evangelist adds, "and this was the condemnation, that men preferred darkness rather than light."

Arlington library changes book loan period

The Arlington Heights Public Library is extending the loan period to three weeks for most books with no renewal privilege. Certain books in demand will be charged out for only seven days. These books will be conspicuously marked. It is hoped that this change will reduce fines and provide better service to library patrons.

Preparatory to the move to the new library building, the librarian and her assistant are reorganizing the card catalogue of books. Patrons are urged to ask for any book which they do not find on the shelf or in the catalogue.

An excellent way to continue or supplement one's education is to listen to WBBM's program, "Invitation to Learning," at 10:35 a. m. Sunday. Next Sunday the informal discussion will concern Guy de Maupassant's short stories. The Public Library has three volumes of the stories of this master of romantic realism and one book called "The Bedside Book of Famous French Stories" which includes stories by de Maupassant. Ask the librarian for these books and compare your opinions with those of the radio experts, Fadiman, Bryson, and van Doran.

Ela Vernon school patrons give answer at election Saturday

The future of Ela-Vernon high school depends upon the verdict of the voters who go to the polls Saturday. They will be presented with ballots containing three propositions. A vote of "yes" on all of them is the recommendation of the volunteer committee which assumed the publicity responsibility.

Proposition No. 1 gives the school board the right to build an addition to the present high school building.

Proposition No. 2 authorizes the issuance of $854,000 in bonds to pay for such addition.

Proposition No. 3 provides for a bond issue of $107,000 to remodel the present building.

A tax rate of 2¾% is named in the bond propositions.

THE AVERAGE school patron gauges the efficience of his high school by what his children, if he has any, have to say about their school, but expert authority from the state superintendent of public instruction tells the real story.

A few observations made by that office are worth thinking about:

"The physical facilities provided at the Ela-Vernon high school do not fully lend themselves to the accomplishment of the objectives in vocational agriculture. Measured in terms of the modern, up-to-date farm, the present facilities would not score very high."

"The lack of a farm shop provides an unbalanced training for a prospective farmer."

"To provide for balanced training in vocational agriculture, adequate physical facilities are highly recommended."

"Two of the present classes in agriculture are overloaded."

"THE EDUCATIONAL program for this school is broad. The curriculum is organized so that a great variety of courses are offered to meet the needs and interests of all students enrolled. Constant efforts are being made to study the needs of the community and implement the curriculum to meet these needs."

School library: "The study-hall library is a very crowded and inadequate facility to effectively provide a place for study and library work."

"In my short visitation, it appeared that the following departments should have expanded areas or else new facilities to develop the type of program which this community no doubt desires: Agriculture, music, science, library, business education, physical education, art and industrial arts."

Bartlett becomes part of Elgin school system after July 1, 1952

The residents of Bartlett who overwhelmingly defeated a bond issue that would have provided school houses for Schaumburg township and the rural area of Bartlett secured court approval November 28 to their withdrawal from the unit district for annexation to the City of Elgin school system.

The petition was unopposed in the county court. The separation will be complete by July 1, 1952.

The "expiring" school district has $50,000 outstanding in tax anticipation warrants, which will be retired with collection of taxes next year.

The remaining area of the original unit district will meet at the Schaumburg school December 18 to decide upon a course of action. If the unit district is allowed to die by the withdrawal of the remaining districts, the original rural school districts would be revived.

With the withdrawal of Bartlett two members of the board of education residing there are automatically disqualified as members of that board.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Arlington Heights, Illinois, have designated the undersigned Board of Appeals as a commission or committee to hold a public hearing on the proposition to amend the Zoning Ordinance of the Village of Arlington Heights, entitled:

"AN ORDINANCE TO CLASSIFY, REGULATE AND RESTRICT THE LOCATIONS OF TRADES AND INDUSTRIES AND THE LOCATION OF BUILDINGS DESIGNED FOR SPECIFIC USES; TO REGULATE AND LIMIT THE INTENSITY OF THE USE OF LOT AREAS AND TO REGULATE AND DETERMINE THE AREA OF YARDS, COURTS AND OTHER OPEN SPACES WITHIN AND SURROUNDING SUCH BUILDINGS, AND TO ESTABLISH THE BOUNDARIES OF DISTRICTS FOR THE SAID PURPOSES AND PRESCRIBING PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION OF ITS PROVISIONS," by adding thereto and making part thereof two additional sections, properly numbered, and in substance as follows:

"Section..... For the purpose of preventing deterioration of values in residential neighborhoods and the deterioration of conditions or considerations of health, sanitation, safety and public welfare in such nieghborhoods by poor planning, indiscriminate and unregulated building and the erection of inferior and unsuitable buildings in such neighborhoods, all new buildings shall be of an architectural design suitable for a good suburban community. No permit shall be issued for any new building, or for an improvement to an existing building which is of such architectural design that the same is manifestly inferior or so radically different as to impair marketability or property values of existing buildings in the same immediate vicinity. Free standing buildings and buildings fronting on more than one street shall have the same material or architecturally harmonious materials used for all exterior walls. Buildings partially free standing shall have the same material or architecturally harmonious materials used for exposed exterior walls and exposed portions of exterior walls. Nothing herein contained shall be held to require the use of more than one material on any one wall unless more than one material is used for other exposed walls.

In the event a building permit is denied to any applicant by reason of this section, he shall have the right to appeal to the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Arlington Heights. Upon such appeal being made and after reasonable notice to the applicant and to owners and occupants of existing buildings in the vicinity, a public hearing shall be held by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village where evidence shall be received from both the applicant and the owners or occupants of buildings in the immediate vicinity of the proposed building. After receiving and carefully considering such evidence if the President and Board of Trustees of the Village shall determine that the erection of the proposed building will detrimentally affect values of adjoining and neighboring properties, they shall affirm the denial of the permit. If, after careful consideration, the President and Board of Trustees of the Village shall determine that the proposed building will not detrimentally affect values of adjoining and neighboring properties, they shall direct the Building Commissioner to issue a permit.

The provisions of this section shall not in any manner repeal or abrogate any of the requirements and provisions contained in Chapter 20 entitled "Buildings" of the Municipal Code of Arlington Heights of 1929, and its several amendments, or as the same may hereafter be amended, but shall be additional and supplemental to the provisions of said Chapter 20 and any amendments thereto."

"Section..... MORE THAN TWO RESIDENTIAL BUILDINGS IN ONE BLOCK ON SAME SIDE OF STREET PROHIBITED. It shall be unlawful for any contractor or builder to construct more than two residential buildings of the same exterior design on the same side of the street in any one block. Two buildings of like exterior design, when so constructed within any one block, may be so erected only when they are not adjacent to each other or directly across the street from each other. The mere change of details in the front elevation of a building, such as locations of windows, unsubstantial change in size of windows, locations of doors or entrances, or roof lines, shall not be considered as a change in exterior design."

You are further notified that a public hearing for the purpose of considering said proposed amendment to the Zoning Ordinance will be had before the undersigned Board of Appeals constituting such commission or committee, at the Village Hall in the Village of Arlington Heights, on the 28th day of December, 1951, at the hour of 8:00 o'clock P. M.

If upon said hearing said Board of Appeals should consider said proposed amendment advisable it will so report back to the President and Board of Trustees, with its recommendation that said Zoning Ordinance be amended, as proposed, and that an ordinance making such amendment be passed.

Those wreaths with the lovely red berries and pine cones are what caught my eye at Sauerland's this week. They're the nice fat ones, with the wide four-inch ribbon, and they'd be a picture framed on your front door or hung in the window.

Sauerland's also have those cute candy-stick door trims, complete with their own bright ribbon trim. They offer, too, ropes of evergreen for both inside and outside decoration and some attractive candle and evergreen centerpieces for a truly Christmasy table.

And Sauerland's is noted for their outstanding hobby shop, with gifts for children and adults. Many are truly make-it-yourself hobby kits to encourage dexterity on the part of the youngsters—and papa, too! So drop in at store of variety on South State road.

Grab-bag time is coming up, with virtually every women's organization having this type of entertainment at its Christmas party. Sieberg's has come up with a "just-in-time" shipment of costume jewelry in the one dollar class and they suggest that it's just about the ideal gift for a grab-bag.

The collection includes pins, earrings and bracelets, but outstanding, I feel, is the amount and variety of heraldic items. These, you know, are probably this year's outstandingly popular jewelry, and the variety in Sieberg's collection is amazing.

Sieberg's reminds you, too, that this week end is your last chance to order photo-greeting cards in time for Christmas mailing. Service is very prompt on the cards. You bring in your negative—your children, home or whatever you want pictured on the card—and they have it made up into an attractive personal greeting card. Prices incidentally, are much more reasonable than people think, 50 cards costing just over five dollars.

People with washing machines are apt to follow the example of those who don't own them by taking their laundry to the Wala Washerette during the busy holiday season. The service is so quick and the job is done so painlessly that the custom begun during a rush is apt to become a habit.

At the Washerette, you know, you can put your clothes in an automatic machine and go off on errands. When you return, it'll be—at your option—thoroughly dried, damp dried, or semi-damp-dried ready for you to take home. Talk about convenience and simplicity!

And the folks who run the establishment are courteous and friendly as well, hoping to please in every way. They've recently enlarged the parking lot at the Wala Washerette on Northwest highway, just west of Euclid.

Dieber's Sinclair station on Northwest highway at Vail is headquarters for Cox Christmas trees. They are trees that range in size from the smallest to virtually mansion-size.

A company that takes the time and effort to tag each individual tree with its own label is surely proud of its product, and that's exactly the way the Cox company feels about its magnificent specimens. When you buy a tagged tree, one of which the grower and the dealer are proud, you can be sure you'll be proud to have it gaily decorated in your home as well.

So hurry and stop in at Dieber's Sinclair before their collection of Cox trees is depleted.

At Pearce's in Palatine, they have just the gifts to fill any lady's stocking to perfection. They're attractive, they're reasonable, and what's more they're all something she can put to good use.

For instance, they are tiny jewelled pen and pencil sets and a purse ash tray. This latter is a darling and utilitarian idea—it is in the shape of a miniature silent butler, but it locks tightly so no ashes escape into the purse. A scarf holder is another stocking-priced item—you know, they're the jewel-studded or plain rings that hold a silk scarf in place.

Pearce's also have a lovely collection of organdy and peasant aprons, those dressy ones that make such wonderfully welcome gifts no matter what the age of the lady who receives it.

In the strictly practical, but also welcome line, are goodly collection of fur and wool-lined leather driving gloves. With climate such as we have here, a pair of these is almost a necessity for any woman who drives the car in the winter time.

And while you're at Pearce's in Palatine, take a look at their collection of feature rhinestone jewelry. It's another irresistible item.

If it's a toy on wheels, Winkelman's has it! From the simple pull or push toy for the child just past infancy to an adult-type gift of a motor bike, Wink's has it!

Of course, the Schwinn-built bikes are a feature of Wink's stock, as are the Lionel trains, but these are far from all he has to offer. There are all sizes of trikes for the pre-schoolers, the increasingly - popular ride - in tractors (even one magnificent specimen with caterpillar treads), and, what do you know!—even a lawn mower in December, and a well-detailed miniature one at that.

And while picking out gifts in this toy paradise, you can choose your tree ornaments and lighting sets as well. All this at Winkelman's Tire and Battery shop on East Davis st.

Out west on Northwest highway is a good place to eat—is the word that hasn't taken long to get around in Arlington Heights. The place "they're" talking about is Cor-Del's Inn, with food and drink to fit most every taste. A specialty is extra-good meats, with prices also on the reasonable side.

This restaurant opens daily—except Tuesday—at 4 p. m., but for those who want to plan a private party, they'll be glad to arrange luncheon hours and even a special menu selected by you. With Cora at the helm in the kitchen, this menu of your choice is sure to be prepared properly, too. Small private parties can also be cared for during the dinner or evening hours in a special room.

So take yourself—or a party of friends—and do your holiday entertaining in the easy way, at Cor-Del's, 800 Northwest highway.

The traditional compliment to a bakery display—a child's nose pressed against the window — was paid to the Cake Box's adorable gingerbread house by our two-and-a-half year old. And what's more, he practically refused to leave!

The house is just what one thinks of as typical of its type—the walls, of course, are gingerbread, with doors and windows outlined in white frosting, and the roof heavily coated in frosting "snow." A candy snowman or Santa Claus guards the door and hard candies trim the roof. It make a sweet centerpiece—if one can resist eating it!

Of course, the Cake Box offers all kinds of other Christmas goodies as well, plain and fancy holiday cookies and fruit cakes, and then, too, their regular everyday fare of luscious doughnuts, rolls, breads and cakes.

Legion sponsors annual 'Gifts to Yanks Who Gave'

Merle Guild American Legion Post of Arlington Heights is collecting Christmas gifts to be distributed to all veterans, men and women, in the federal, state, army, navy or contract hospitals.

Containers have been placed in various places of business.

Checks may be made payable to the American Legion, Department of Illinois, Yank Gifts, and should be sent to Dr. Robert H. Balfour, chairman, 6 W. Campbell st., Arlington Heights. Gifts can also be left at Dr. Balfour's office, 6 W. Campbell st.

Razor blades, knives, matches, candy and food are not acceptable.

The American Legion expects to serve 43 hospitals throughout the state of Illinois.

LETTERS of Judge Banks ... to his daughter

My dear Daughter:

Banking by mail certainly is a time-saver. Most people think only of money in connection with saving ... but there are other ways, such as time, health, effort and production ... which can be termed saving.

The bank helps their depositors by furnishing a "Bank by Mail" service with all the necessary forms. Fill out the banks forms, with the amount of your deposit and drop into the nearest mailbox. They will return the deposit slip by mail ... you pay your bills by mail. Your bank and Uncle Sam save you a lot of time.

These modern time saving devices save money, and that is why American factories produce the best products and why AMERICA IS THE WEALTHIEST COUNTRY IN THE WORLD TODAY.

Love, Dad

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

That it is divinely natural for the Father tenderly to care for His own and unnatural for man to look elsewhere for safety, healing and comfort, will be explained in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. The title of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday, December 16, is "GOD THE PRESERVER OF MAN."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (62: 7) "In God is my salvation and my glory: the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God."

Lesson-Sermon passages from the Bible (King James Version) include the following:

"And John calling unto him two of his disciples sent them to Jesus . . . Then Jesus answering said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, to the poor the gospel is preached" (Luke 7: 19, 22).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need. It is not well to imagine that Jesus demonstrated the divine power to heal only for a select number or for a limited period of time, since to all mankind and in every hour, divine Love supplies all good . . . In divine Science, where prayers are mental, all may avail themselves of God as 'a very present help in trouble'" (pp. 494, 12).

New cadet at coast guard academy

Dudley S. Schultz, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Schultz, 255 N. Brockway, Palatine, has received an appointment as a cadet in the coast guard academy at New London, Conn.

The coast guard selected him, along with two hundred other new cadets, from the group of 5,000 candidates who took a competitive examination last February. Cadet Schultz will spend four years at the coast guard academy at New London, Conn. He will then graduate with a bachelor of science degree in engineering and be awarded a commission as ensign in the coast guard.

In Texas

Sgt. Charles Bracke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Bracke, 607 Newbury pl., Arlington Hts., became a sergeant November 19. He is stationed at the Sheppard Air Base, Wichita Falls, Texas.

Charles enlisted in the Air Force and was sent to San Antonio, Texas, in September 1950 for his basic training. He was later transferred to Sheppard Air Base.

His present address is: Sgt. Charles Bracke, AF 16340359. HQ and HQ Sq. 3740th BMTG, Sheppard Air Base, Wichita Falls, Texas.

In Hawaii

Sgt. Donald W. Douglass, USEC, husband of the former Miss Patricia G. Peterson of Arlington Heights, is served a snack at the YWCA in Hilo, T.H. The sergeant is attached to the supply department of the aircraft carrier, USS Valley Forge, and was able to visit Hilo when his ship was anchored there for three days.

In Texas

Pvt. Leroy J. Linnemann, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Linnemann 104 Benton st., Palatine, is completing his AF basic airmen indoctrination course at Lackland air force base, the "gateway to the air force."

Lackland, situated near San Antonio, is the world's largest air force base, site of air force basic training, for men and women, headquarters of the human resource research center, and home of AF's Officer Candidate School.

His basic training is preparing him for entrance into air force technical training and for assignment in specialized work. The course includes a scientific evaluation of his aptitude and inclination for following a particular vocation and career.

In Virginia

Cpl. George H. Sode, son of the senior Sodes of 206 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, was presented with a scholarship award for being the outstanding student taking the radiology course at the University of Toledo.

Sode, now a sergeant, was one of 44 airmen of the 3313th School Squadron of the United States Air Force taking the 16 week radiology course. He maintained a straight "A" average for the entire course. The award was presented by Dr. Archie N. Solberg, director of special services at the university.

George graduated from Arlington Heights high school with the class of '47. In January 1951 he was married to Josephine Westbrook of Chicago. George, now stationed at the hospital at Langley Field, Hampton, Va., plans to make the air force his career.

In Germany

Now stationed at the Rhine main air base at Frankfurt, Germany, is John Lauffenburger of Palatine. His address is: Pvt. John P. Lauffenburger, US 55109461, Co. C Eng. Avn. Bn. APO 57, % PM, New York, N. Y.

Rosa M. Butler

Mrs. Rosa M. Butler, 68, of 626 N. State rd., Arlington Heights, died December 9 at Sherman hospital, Elgin.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at Lauterburg and Oehler funeral chapel in Arlington Heights. Rev. R. Robert Ismay officiated. Interment Memory Gardens.

Mrs. Butler, who was born May 24, 1883, in Goff, Kan., had lived in Arlington Heights 14 years. Prior to that she lived in Des Plaines. She was married August 28, 1907, in Goodland, Kan.

Survivors include her husband, Claude; three daughters, Gwendolyn Hoch of Des Plaines, Frances Kindhart and Marguerite Schmidt, both of Arlington Heights; seven grandchildren; two sisters, Ida Klelland of Kansas and Bernice Ellis of Carbondale, Ill., and two brothers, Francis and Clyde Berridge of Kansas.

A. R. Godknecht

A. R. Godknecht, former Palatine mayor, died Thursday, December 6, at his home in Santa Monica, Cal. Interment occurred there Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Huecker of Elmhurst and the John Godknecht family of Boyd, Ore., attended the funeral.

In addition to his wife, Emmeline, there remain a son, Russell; two grandchildren; two sisters, Margaret of Palatine and Mrs. Frank Hall of Chicago, and two brothers, William of Palatine and John of Boyd, Ore.

Deceased was born October 27, 1881, in Palatine and graduated from Palatine high school in June 1900. He immediately entered the freight auditing department of the Chicago and North Western railroad. He was recognized as an expert auditor and continued in that capacity except for the six years, from 1916 to 1922 when he served as Palatine postmaster.

He married Miss Emmeline Kuebler June 27, 1908.

He was first elected a member of the village board in 1927 and continued in that capacity until 1933 when he was elected president, serving eight years until 1941.

Because of ill health he resigned his position with the railroad company in 1946. Mr. and Mrs. Godknecht moved to California in 1949. He enjoyed being near his son, Russell, but early last fall his health took a turn for the worse.

Mr. Godknecht was secretary of Palatine Lodge of Odd Fellows 40 years. He was also a member of Palatine Masonic Lodge.

IN MEMORIAM

Carl Larsen — In cherished memory of our dear husband and father who departed this life December 13, 1939, 12 years ago.
How tender is life's tender cord
How soon 'tis broken here.
Each moment brings a parting word
And many a silent tear.
And though these years to mortals given
Are filled with grief and pain,
There is a hope, the hope of heaven
Where loved ones meet again.

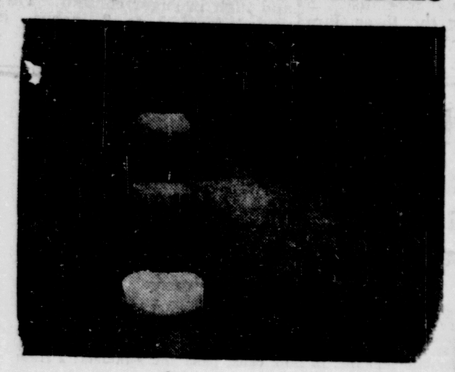
Lighting tips for Holiday House

MAKE YOUR OWN LIGHTED TREES TO DECORATE MANTEL, BUFFET OR TABLES



Paper cones made from colorful Christmas gift wrapping or construction papers, Christmas tree lights, doweling and a block of foam plastic are all you need to make these attractive lighted trees.

The three-tiered tree at the left is made with midnight blue construction paper readily available at local artist supply stores. The perforated design was accomplished by sticking the paper with an unthreaded sewing machine.

The single cone tree at the right is made with decorative gift wrapping paper.

If you enjoy making your own indoor holiday decorations, here's an idea for lighted paper Christmas trees that can be made in an evening or two.

These attractive, glowing trees make handsome decorations for holiday buffet, centerpiece, mantel or hallway arrangement when used singly or in pairs.

Select Right Paper

Choose opaque or slightly transparent paper for the covering. Many of the decorative wrapping papers are ideal for this purpose. However, sturdy construction paper (available in large sizes at local artist supply stores) may also be used.

As shown in the photographs above, both single cone and triple cone trees can be used.

Follow Instructions

Construction paper was used for the triple tiered tree pictured at the right above. As sketched at the lower right of the picture, the base was made of a six-inch square of quarter-inch plywood. A "stem" of one-inch doweling was firmly attached and a two-inch disc of plastic foam centered over the dowel and pushed to the bottom to form a base. (Plastic foam is easily inserted over the dowel if a small hole is made in the center with a paring knife before it is forced through the wooden dowel.)

Next, wrap a set of Christmas tree lights around the doweling as indicated in the sketch. Hold lights in place with electrical tape. Notice how lights are positioned, one at the top, three a little lower for the center cone and four at the lower portion for the bottom cone.

Carefully Place Lights

Placing lights in this position will make it possible to place cones so that light creates a three dimensional effect. Single cone trees, like the one shown at the lower right are lighted in the same way. Notice in the drawing how lights are positioned close to the dowel.

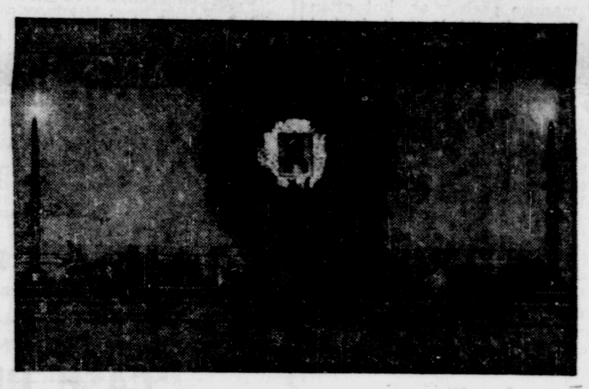
The single cone tree was made from gift wrapping paper striped with multicolored foil. Decorative papers that are too thin to hold their shape can often be strengthened with plain white paper linings.

General Electric lighting specialists suggest that paper cones must be placed so that the bulbs do not come in contact with the paper.

Add glamor to your Christmas tree lights by backing them with shiny aluminum foil reflectors.

Cut circles from household - type foil, make a small opening in the center before placing them on the socket and insert the bulb. Decorate by pleating or with colored self-sticking wrapping tape.

USE IMAGINATION FOR NOVEL INDOOR CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS



Make your own holiday wreath for the mantel. Use a wire coat hanger for a frame, as shown in the sketch at the right.

Then, wrap a set of Christmas tree bulbs around the frame and wire greens in place.

For an unusual effect, imbed tiny fruits and berries in the greens and center a small plaque or picture.

In the wreath shown above, the plaque of the Christ child becomes almost life-like with the lighting.

General Electric lighting specialists suggest that colored bulbs imbedded in the greens will give depth and highlights to the fruits. Notice how bulbs are positioned so that one socket is located directly beneath the plaque. For best results, use a white bulb underneath the picture.

suggest that by varying the colors of the bulbs, each tree will take on different color effect.

Place paper "trees" over lights which have been artistically surrounded with feathery greens. Tiny Christmas ornaments may be tucked between the greens to complete the holiday arrangement. Wrap any cord which extends over the table top with white crepe paper to make it inconspicuous.

(Always interested in any new lighting developments, General Electric home lighting specialists will scout the country for new lamp ideas and report them to you in this shopping column.)

There are so many new and interesting lighting ideas for your holiday home decorations that it's hard to know where to begin. Of course, you'll find several types of indoor tree light sets. In addition to using them on the family tree, you can use them in holiday centerpieces, in mantel arrangements, and in sprays of greenery to name only a few.

And speaking of the family Christmas tree, don't overlook the new illuminated tree stands. They range all the way from colorful plastic ones with lights concealed inside to more elaborate ones that light up and play music at the same time. Lighted angels and stars for the top of the tree are also available in a variety of styles.

If there are young children in the family, be sure to plan a place of honor for the new lighted reindeer, Santas, snowmen, which have lights concealed in them.

Of course for those who consider no Christmas complete without lighted wreaths and candles, there are many designs from which to choose.

Beautifully illuminated Nativity scenes, several of which boast moving figures and musical backgrounds are also available. Lighted churches and altars also provide another tangible evidence of the true meaning of Christmas.

Light your holiday table centerpiece

The attractive holiday centerpiece pictured above is so easy to make that you'll wonder why you never thought of it before.

Actually, the charming miniature Christmas trees arranged on a bed of greens are pleated paper cones perched on Christmas tree bulbs.

Borrow some of the aluminum foil from the kitchen for shiny trees or use any kind of opaque paper for your cones.

If you remember how the youngsters pleat paper fans, you'll have no trouble making these "trees."

First, cut a circle of paper at least six inches in diameter. Fold in half. Then fold again in quarters, then in eighths. Cut out tiny squares and diamonds to create a pattern that will allow light to peak through. Open the trees and reverse every other pleat until the "tree" will stand upright.

Now, arrange a set of Christmas tree bulbs on a table mirror and fasten with self-sticking tape to hold them in an upright position. General Electric lighting specialists who worked out this clever design,

How to shape paper cones

Symmetrical paper cones are easy to make if you follow the directions below:

1. Draw a circle twice the desired diameter of a finished cone. (A pencil tied to a string and anchored to the center with a pin makes a good compass.

2. Then, cut along radius of circle, as shown by dotted line.
3. To shape the cone, overlap points A and B until desired flare is reached. You'll be able to control the flare of the cone by the amount of overlapping. Height of cone will depend on diameter of circle.

New school

Our organization would like to thank you for your cooperation in our recent campaign for a new school. As your paper will probably announce on another page, the issues were settled by a landslide. It certainly shows that a well-informed public wanted a well-planned educational policy in the school district.

Our Board of Directors have devoted months of hard work to the preparation of this presentation, and should receive our heartfelt thanks.

Gerald Fossler, who prepared the brochure circulated through the district, did a masterful job on its composition, and is receiving compliments.

Schweikher and Elting designed a beautiful school, and received their share of our thanks.

And last, but not least, is every one of the 32 workers who covered the district with house calls to deliver the brochures. Quite a few were not members of our Parent Teacher Association. This all shows a wonderful job of team work. We are all grateful.

● POPULAR OPINION

The warm state of Florida gave its star vacationer, one Harry S. Truman, president, of the United States, a rather cool reception as far as public opinion as to his political popularity is concerned. Florida newspapers are conducting a poll on several topics relating to Mr. Truman's popularity and the results are rather startling coming from one of the states of the solid South.

The first question asked was—Would you vote for Truman's re-election? The result—5% yes, 95% no. Then came the following questions and results: Should Acheson and associates be removed?—80% yes, 10% no, 10% no opinion.

Should a large force of U. S. troops be sent to Europe?—10% yes, 75% no, 15% no opinion.

Should the internal revenue department be investigated? —95% yes, 5% no.

Do you generally trust the present national administration? —5% yes, 95% no.

Do you favor the United Nations policy in Korea?—15% yes, 80% no, 5% no opinion.

The above result was from the poll taken by one Florida newspaper. The results in some of the polls taken by other newspapers in the state are even more decided in their opposition to the present administration.

Evidently the folks of Florida are paying some attention to the statistics of Senator Byrd of Virginia, that staunch democrat who is also an American minded individual, and who has been talking straight from the shoulder on the policies of the Truman administration and where they are leading the country.

● GRABBING BUSINESS

That's what the C.&N.W. R.R. seems to be doing for the big city merchants at the expense of the suburban and small town business houses. That 15 cent round trip for children to go and see the big town Santas, good from far out in the country and all points between there and Chicago, is attracting huge crowds not only of youngsters, but also parents, who of necessity have to go along. All of those people are doing a lot of shopping in the city that would have gone to the small town merchants if it had not been for this "bait" of the railroad to snare the Christmas business away from the suburbs and small towns.

The railroad is always hollering about not getting enough suburban business to meet its expenses. With this sort of reverse cooperation with the suburbs, it's no wonder people ride the busses. With the feeling that we have heard expressed in many places about this "cut throat" action by the railroad, it's a wonder anybody rides its trains.

● HEAR YE—HEAR YE

"This honorable branch of the Palatine police court is now in session, Judge Hartman presiding, no smoking in the court room, everyone be seated." (Everyone was seated already, as no one but the police officers had risen at the first rap of the gavel.)

First case, a Bensenville lad who had made a lot of unnecessary racket with his car—guilty, $6 and $4 costs. The lad had some sort of a noise making gadget on his car and he complained, why do they sell them if you can't use them? The judge's answer, "Maybe they are legal in some states or down in Mexico but they aren't in Illinois?"

Next a youth who was late for school and who parked wrong—the lowest possible fine $2 and $2; such is the penalty for trying to get an education and being in a hurry about it.

Then a young lady who had failed to get a vehicle tag. She had just recenly moved here and didn't know she had to have one. No fine—all she had to do was buy a sticker.

Then the big case—an Arlington Heights man who was charged with disturbing the peace and resisting an officer in a Palatine tavern. This one took the judge a long time to find out what really happened. Testimony of two witnesses, the police officer and the tavern owner disagreed. The defendant didn't seem to want to get into too much of a debate about it all—"I'll plead guilty and let's get it over," and the judge finally said $6 and $4 on disturbing the peace, $150 and costs on resisting an officer—$50 in cash and $100 on a suspended fine with six months probation and a report once a month for six months.

Then came two gentlemen who seemed greatly surprised at getting a ticket. They had parked on the school lawn. The judge explained that this was private property and not a public highway and let them off easy with $3 and $2.

● TRANSFORMATION

As court was about to adjourn, a fellow who looked like a prosperous business man and who had been talking pleasantly with some of the spectators, arose and seemed surprised that his name hadn't been called. Finally he approched the bench and stated his name. The judge and the officers recognized him and greeted him warmly.

He was a fellow who a few weeks before had been involved in a head-on auto collision and when he appeared in court, he looked like a resident of skid row, his wife was threatening to leave him, and he was generally the worse for wear. Friday night he was reporting back to the court as he had been ordered to do, and his transformation was so complete that the judge and the officers didn't know him. No wonder the court officials greeted him like an old friend: this man's transformation in a few weeks' time showed that one fellow at least appreciated a break and had enough determination to pull himself together and make good.

● LICENSE SERVICE

The state auto license pick-up service being operated again this year by Clarence Berlin of the DePue office started out with a bang the first of the month. Many autoists who have found by their experience with this service how much time they save, are again availing themselves of it, and new patrons who have heard of the service are also taking advantage of it.

Clarence makes twice a week pick-ups at the Chicago office of the secretary of state and is saving a lot of time for his patrons. The pick-ups will continue until after the first of the year.

● REGISTER

The registration of voters who are not on the permanent registration lists and change of address for those who are-may now be made at the offices of the village and town clerks. Registration will close January 15, and anyone who wants to vote in the April primaries and November elections should get registered at once if he is not on the lists: those who have moved should get a change of address so that their card will be in the proper precinct at election time. Everyone will want to vote at these important elections of 1952, so be sure you are properly registered and don't wait until the last minute—do it now.

● WORSE AND WORSE

People are getting worse and worse in the use of the Palatine village dump. Now some careless folks have been dumping rubbish east of the road, which is clearly out of bounds. Rubbish at the dump has revealed, by names and addresses found in the refuse, that people from Lake Zurich to Prairie View are using the dump.

The village is taking steps to apprehend some of the people who are illegally using that dump, and a few examples made of these people by court action may have a tendency to clear up the situation. It looks as if nothing but radical steps would stop the persistent violations of the law.

● SHORT DAYS

The shortest day of the year will arrive along with the official beginning of winter in about a week. We are in the midst of our shortest and darkest days. One fellow remarked the other day, "Soon the days will get longer," and we replied with the old legend, "When the days begin to lengthen the cold begins to strengthen," and he said, "Oh, let's make that, 'When the days begin to lengthen, the sun begins to strengthen'."

Well, as a matter of fact, both the sun and the cold begin to strengthen with the coming of longer days, and then for a few months the strengthening cold and the strengthening sun will be in a battle until the sun eventually wins out, assisted by the balmy southern breezes of the springtime.

Way Back When

Our Aim: To Fear God, Tell The Truth, and Make Money

53 years ago

When threshing was a co-operative project

This week's picture should bring back memories of the vicissitudes of farming over fifty years ago. The picture was snapped in 1898 and has become so discolored by age that it is difficult to identify the persons appearing therein.

However, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Goebbert, who were a bride and groom two years before the "snapping," were able to identify nearly all the persons in the picture.

The Case threshing outfit had been purchased of Bray & Kates by the Goebbert brothers and Louis Heimsoth. It was primarily used to thresh their own grain, but they helped out a few neighbors, charging the sum of two cents a bushel. They counted a sack as holding two bushels ,although it was nearer three. If the owners of the machine realized $10 profit by the end of the day they were satisfied.

Near the center of the picture are J. H., Louis and Fred Goebbert, Louis Heimsoth and A. B. Scharringhausen. Others present include Fred Linneweh, Christ Helwig, Chas. Bornhorst, William Sauer and Chas. Rodewald.

All the workers received for their work were the day's meals and assurance they would be "helped" when it was their time to thresh. The scene was on the Henry Goebbert homestead, purchased by him in 1863. The farm, located on the north side of Algonquin road, east of State road, is now owned by E. Moll.

For the benefit of city folks who may not know much about farm operations fifty years ago, a reporter interviewed J. H. Goebbert Monday morning and is passing on to readers some of the things he learned:

In place of the modern combine which enters the growing field of grain, threshing it in one operation, the old time farmer found it a hard job.

Mr. Goebbert, who today is 80 years old, recalls that when a boy he sat on a box of the reaper which cut the grain similar to a grass mower today. His father raked the cut grain off the reaper in piles, and these were later banded, using grain as twine.

When the twine grain binders made their appearance, the Goebberts were one of the first to purchase the improved machine. The new machine cut and automatically bound the grain in small bundles which in turn were placed in shocks to dry out. The shocked grain was later taken to the farm yard where it was stacked as shown in the picture. The threshing machine was placed between two stacks and the bundles of grain were thrown down to the feed board of the thresher, where it was the job of two boys to cut the twine, while an older man fed the grain into the thresher cylinder.

The threshing of 1200 to 1500 bushels of oats a day was considered a good day's work. The stacking of the grain extended actual threshing to late August and early September in place of July, as is done today with use of combines.

Gasoline engines had not been perfected sufficiently in the 1890's to permit their use on farms. It was either steam engines or horse power. The Goebbert outfit was operated by five teams furnished by the owners of the outfit. Mr. Goebbert remembers one year that after spending five hours driving a team to Chicago with 100 bushels of oats he received only $18.

Farmers depended upon their sale of milk to keep the family during the winter, but very frequently the bill for groceries secured from the operator of the creamery amounted to more than the farmer had coming.

There was no such thing as monthly settlements. The farmer was furnished his groceries and an occasional pair of shoes or boots until spring time when they settled up—on one side of the ledger was the amount of milk purchased by the creamery and on the other side the amount of goods furnished the farm family.

In 1896 farmers were receiving as little as 67c a hundred pounds for milk. The Goebberts delivered to the Jake Sigwalt creamery at Algonquin and State road. The store is still standing, being used as a warehouse by Charles Klehm and son.

A hired man worked a year for $150, with settlements every March. Some good workers received as much as $200 a year.

Today few farmers grow potatoes, preferring to grow carrots and tomatoes. J. H. is of the old school and he grows enough potatoes to supply himself and children. "Wonderful potatoes can be grown on Elk Grove land," he says.

Potatoes were unprofitable in 1900. "We sometimes only received 50c a bag," says Mr. Goebbert. "We broke even if the price was a dollar and when it soared to $2.00 a bag we were happy."

When Mr. Goebbert started to farm, sod was turned over with a walking plow. Later the sulky plow came into existence and still later the gang plow. Of course the Goebberts were among the early purchasers of tractors, but J. H. says that it was with great regret that he sold his horses. When they heard him open the barn door in the morning they had a way of welcoming him. A lump came in his throat the first morning he opened the door and that "welcome" was not there.

The thrifty farmer fifty years ago walked to church on Sundays in order to allow his horses one day of rest. Many a young man went courting in a spring wagon until he could buy his own horse and buggy. "However," says Mr. Goebbert, "by the time my sons became interested in girls we had a model T Ford, but of course they could not all use the car the same night.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Goebbert have stayed rather close to home. Theodore lives in Des Plaines; Paul in Schaumburg; Alfred is farming on Algonquin road and Walter resides nearby.

The three daughters are Alvina Boergner, Arlington Hts.; Rose Roloff, Elgin, and Violet Busse who resides on Route 58.

Mr. Goebbert is 80 years old, but looks as young as a 60-year-old. He farms his 23 acres alone and takes such good care of a 1938 Plymouth that he is not even thinking about buying a new car. "In that respect I guess I am old fashioned; I am not interested in new car models," commented J. H., as the reporter bade him adieu.

Place home freezer in room temperature

A farm electrical specialist warns that you may have trouble with your home freezer this winter if it's located where temperatures get as cold as they are outdoors.

Frank Andrew in the Illinois College of Agriculture says many home freezers are designed to operate only at room temperatures.

If your freezer is located in the garage, back porch, breezeway or some place where cold can get to it, it may not run because the lubrication stiffens.

Andrew says either to check the manufacturer's recommendations for locating your freezer or to move it into a location at room temperature if you're in doubt.

Here's a story of efficient farming

One man, farming efficiently, produced 90,000 pounds of pork, 2,430 dozens of eggs, 3,200 bushels of corn and 1,800 bushels of oats last year on a 160-acre east-central Illinois farm.

J. B. Cunningham, farm management specialist in the Illinois college of agriculture, says the farmer raises about 400 hogs, 300 chickens, 75 acres of corn, 38 acres of oats and 38 acres of alfalfa. He is 36 years old and does all of his work himself except some exchange work with neighbors and a little help from his wife with poultry.

AMONG THE MAN'S efficient farming methods is to clip both crops of alfalfa and let it rot on the ground. This improves soil tilth and organic matter. He lives in an area where only 10 per cent of the cropland is in hay and pasture, but he keeps 25 per cent of his land in alfalfa. He cuts little of it for hay.

In his hog program, the sows farrow in individual houses, without heat, some coming in the dead of winter. Tight houses, well banked with straw, keep the sows and pigs comfortable. Water is hauled to the field. The feed is mostly corn and commercial supplement, hand fed.

AS FOR POULTRY, the farmer keeps 300 laying hens in an old hayloft. He pipes water into the hen house, using the new electric tape around the pipe to prevent it from freezing. He also used community nests — long, dark boxes hinged in the back so that eggs can be removed — and deep litter—at least a foot deep. In the spring, young chickens run in a pasture at least 40 rods from the house. That prevents them from catching diseases from the older birds.

Low compliance cattle prices reducing beef

"Low compliance prices for cattle are reducing beef supplies," H. M. Conway, veteran market analyst, points out in the December issue of national live stock producer, the nation's leading live stock publication.

"The inability of packers to compete and buy the market supply of cattle on a compliance basis" writes Mr. Conway, "reduces the total volume of beef, shifts the supply from normal channels and creates an emergency in supplying our armed forces."

"Such conditions are serious to most processors and retail distributors of beef. For the industry as a whole, it is embarrassing not to be able to supply adequate beef for military needs.

"FOR ANY APPARENT success in stabilizing wholesale and retail beef prices there must be reasonably normal processing margins. This can be accomplished only by the elimination of compliance prices on cattle. As conditions now stand, there is no prospect of any increase in the total supply of beef during the next 12 months.

"Any possible increase in beef will be offset by reduced supply of pork. All supply and demand conditions are such as to give considerable protection to live stock producers and feeders at least through the summer of next year.

"Very much depends upon the continuation of price controls beyond the middle of next year. Existing controls are such as to delay beef production. High prices of stocker and feeder cattle have caused feeders to shift to younger and lighter weight cattle.

"MORE EMPHASIS is being placed on utilization of roughage and grazing. Such policies will hold down the supply of beef during the first half of the feeding season, particularly during the next six months, and shift marketings quite generally into the fall season.

"In the Corn Belt, there has been an extreme shift to hogs of more rapid maturity. This places an undue burden upon the late fall market. The existing unfavorable hog-corn ratio further discourages production. Considering the less speculative outlet for corn, this is especially significant.

"These conditions indicate a very substantial gap in pork supplies during the late winter and early spring.

" THIS WINTER there will be another short supply of fed lambs. The early fed crop was only slightly increased. Slaughter supplies were maintained during the late fall indicating about the same supply as last year for this winter season. As a whole, the lamb situation reflects the cyclical low level of production and a general tendency to hold breeding stock for replacement and expansion. Next spring—supply conditions will be better than normal — indicating a shorter supply will come during the late winter. Much depends on the trend in wool prices."

Competition

Robert Browning had keen competition for the affections of Elizabeth Barrett from Flush, the poetess' devoted cocker spaniel. Flush would lay at his mistress' feet rather than scamper about during her long illness. When Mr. Browning courted Elizabeth, it was a long time before Flush would make friends with him.

Heating Devices Take On Job Of Warming Water for Stock

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Water is the cheapest and one of the most important things farmers must provide poultry and stock. For the products they get from them, whether meat, milk or eggs, are composed largely of water. Unless poultry and stock have enough water to drink at all times their production will go down.

The use of pressure water systems will do the job unaided during the summer. But in northern states, where snow and ice are the rule for several months each winter, the delivery of water alone often is not enough. Some heat is needed to keep stock tanks and poultry waterers from freezing over.

A few years ago, the chore of maintaining open stock tanks in cold weather was the unpleasant duty of ax-wielding farm boys. Poultry got a hit or miss treatment, consisting of periodical visits with a steaming kettle, rushed from the kitchen range to the chicken house. And, despite these heroic efforts, neither stock nor poultry drank enough water. Usually, it was either too cold or too hot.

Fortunately times have changed. Equipment has come into use to help the farmer solve his winter watering problems. Stock tanks and poultry waterers, supplied by pressure systems, now can be kept open in the coldest weather with heaters of various kinds.

STOCK WATERING: Stock tank heaters, generally, are of two types—immersion and float. Immersion heaters of 1,000 watts are of heavy construction and warm all of the water in the tank. For practical economy reasons, it is recommended that tanks equipped with immersion heaters be well insulated. Some farmers leave only two-thirds of the surface exposed to the air in the daytime and completely cover the tank at night to save electrical costs. Float type heaters, or de-icers, which draw 500 volts, float on the surface of the water and keep open an ice-free hole, sufficiently large for drinking purposes. In addition to these two conventional types of heaters, there is a heated stock drinking cup on the market. The cup is located in the top of a metal pipe which is lowered into the ground to the desired depth for cows, hogs or sheep. It uses 220 watts, with daily electrical consumption figured at about 1½ kwhr.

POULTRY WATERING: A variety of heaters are available for this winter chore. Immersion types of 150 watts are placed directly in the water and hold the temperature at 50 degrees. Some poultrymen locate heating cable in the bottom of V-shaped water troughs, and others place heat lamps over or under waterers and water pans.

Exposed pipes, in all cases, can be protected from freezing by the application of heating cable or electric heating tape.

LAW on the FARM

Dead trees

One might be inclined to ask: "Why should there be any laws on dead trees?" There is a good answer—the same answer that can be given when the same question is asked about any other subject: "To settle and determine people's rights." Here are some of the "legal situations" caused by dead trees and the laws which cover them:

A dead tree may constitute a dangerous object and bring liability to the owner. If it grows near a boundary and falls on the property of another person, injuring his fence, buildings, or livestock, damage might be recovered on the ground that the owner was negligent in not removing it. This argument would be even more apt to apply to a city owner whose tree falls on a pedestrian or a parked automobile. Of course, to the extent that trees are under the custody and care of the municipality, an individual property owner could not be held liable. Injury to persons on your property might bring liability if the injured persons were not trespassers and you should have been able to recognize the dangerous condition of the tree.

TO THE EXTENT that power companies and other utilities undertake to keep their easements clear of obstructions, an owner would not be responsible to such a company for injury to its property.

Under the law in Illinois, a tree growing on a property line, the trunk of which is partly on one property and partly on another, is owned in common, and both owners would be responsible should liability result.

A tenant may cut dead trees to use for firewood, to improve the premises, or to use on the farm, but not to sell. Trees uprooted by a windstorm could not be used by a tenant unless they were of no value for timber or other commercial purpose.

AN OWNER may be enjoined from keeping a dead tree that is plainly dangerous on the ground that it is a nuisance. However, only persons likely to be injured could maintain such a suit.

Permission to hunt or fish or picnic on your property does not include the right to appropriate and use trees or shrubs, whether dead or not.

Highway authorities may order the destruction of a tree that is dangerous to highway users; and in case a tree falls in the highway, they may order the owner to remove it. Street commissioners have similar authority.

Dead trees (as well as live trees) that are infected with plant disease which are likely to spread or that are infested with insect pests may be declared nuisances by the State Department of Agriculture, and their destruction may be ordered.

AN OWNER may also be enjoined from keeping a dead tree that constitutes an airport hazard.

There is a provision in the drainage law requiring landowners annually to clear the dead trees, brush, logs, and other obstructions from streams that run through their land. When the stream is a boundary, the responsibility falls on both owners. This law does not apply to navigable rivers or to streams that are less than 15 feet wide.

Destroying any tree on the property of another, without his consent, or destroying any tree that serves as a marker or boundary, is a misdemeanor under the Illinois Criminal Code. This applies to dead as well as live trees.

Everybody pays under price controls on beef

Everybody pays under price controls. For farmers, such controls mean lower prices in the market place. But consumers still have to pay more for farm products.

A good example of this is seen in the adjoining chart. It shows the prices farmers have been receiving for choice steers in the Chicago market — and what housewives have been paying for beef in their retail stores.

As you will see during the first six months of the graph, prices farmers received and prices housewives paid rose and fell together. When the demand for beef went up, so did prices. When this demand slackened, prices fell.

THIS WENT ON steadily until about the first of June, 1951. But then prices being paid farmers in the Chicago stockyards suddenly start to dip downward while prices in the Chicago retail stores continue to climb.

What's the answer to the mystery? It's price controls. It was on May 14 of this year that controls on retail beef prices went into effect. By the first of June, they were making themselves felt.

They put a ceiling on how much farmers could receive for their steers. But that takes a lot of paperwork and bookkeeping by a lot of people to figure out these ceilings. This costs money and somebody has to pay for it. Farmers are paying through lower prices for animals and consumers are paying through higher prices for meat. Everybody pays under price controls.

1. Price of beef is the average price in Chicago stores for four important cuts, as reported by American Meat Institute.

2. Price of steers is average price for "good" grade of steers for 1950 and "choice" grade for 1951 on Chicago market as reported by U. S. Department of Agriculture.

(Grades were changed in 1951. "Good" grade in 1950 is the same as "choice" grade in 1951.)

Deadline date for completing ACP practices

To be eligible for payment soil conservation practices approved under the 1951 AC program must be carried out by December 31, 1951. In making this announcement, Mr. Bormet, chairman of the Cook county PMA committee, pointed out this means that such practices must be completed in their entirety by that date in order to meet program requirements. For instance, if limestone or other materials were approved for a farm, such materials must actually be spread on the field before the deadline date.

"Since this deadline is less than a month away, farmers who haven't already completed their approved practices should exert every effort to do so within the remaining few weeks," said the committeeman.

MR. BORMET pointed out that the AC program is carried out on a yearly basis. "In other words," he said, "any allowance for conservation work which is established under the 1951 program must be earned in 1951. Otherwise the payment is entirely lost to the individual farmer."

He also said that farmers who have carried out their practices should report this fact to the county office immediately. All co-operators should keep two things in mind. First, to complete all approved practices by December 31, 1951 and second, to make the necessary reports to the county office within a few days after the beginning of the new year.

Manure worth $24.75 an acre or $7.70 a ton

Manure has been worth $24.75 an acre, or $7.70 a ton, in larger crop yields for each of the past four years on 12 University of Illinois soils experiment fields in central and northern Illinois, reports soils man H. J. Snider.

At those values it's certainly more than worth while to handle manure carefully in order to save all of its fertility value.

Snider says the 12 fields were located on the better corn-belt soils and were farmed in a corn-oats-wheat-clover rotation. About 13 tons of manure were put on once every four years ahead of corn.

An Illinois circular says many farms produce 200 tons or more of manure each year, but often at least one-third of it is lost through leaching and other causes. At $7.70 a ton, that's a loss of over $500.

To avoid this loss, use plenty of bedding and tight floors. This will help save the liquid part of manure that carries about half the total plant food. Haul manure from stalls daily if practicable; otherwise store it in a pit or leave the manure in the cattle shed until you can haul it. A paved feedlot soon pays for itself in manure and fertility value saved. You can also keep livestock on good pasture, where they will spread their own manure.

Livestock will use more feed next year

Members of the National Feed Survey Committee expect some expansion in livestock feeding operations during 1951-52.

S. W. Terrill, head of the swine division at the Illinois College of Agriculture, who was this state's representative on the survey committee, reports that an estimated 134 million tons of grains and other concentrates will be used.

This is 7 per cent larger than the tonnage fed last year to livestock.

The supply of grains and low-protein feeds available for use is 3 per cent higher than the anticipated use, while a deficit of about 3 per cent in high-protein feeds is indicated. Over-all concentrate supply available for feed therefore appears to be in fairly close balance, Terrill points out.

The increase in feed use for 1951-52 over last year is accounted for mainly by the continued strong upward trend in beef cattle numbers, along with moderate increases in numbers of poultry and sheep. Numbers of hogs aid dairy cattle will continue about at a stable level, while numbers of horses and mules continue to decline.

Seedless Japanese watermelons tested

Seedless watermelons from Japan, field-tested this past summer at the Illinois college of agriculture, probably will not replace common American varieties for home use.

That's the judgment of B. L. Weaver, vegetable specialist in charge of testing the three Japanese varieties.

For one thing, germination of the seed was low—about 53 percent. And yield was light. These two factors alone would make the varieties unpopular with our commercial growers. The Japanese melons also have thin rinds and cannot be shipped easily without damage.

Weaver reports that the Japanese melons harvested were even in size, excellent in quality and high in sugar content. They varied from 7 to 8 inches in diameter and weighed 7 to 8 pounds each.

Suit holds up Maine school addition

No work will be started on the additions to Maine Township high school at least until sometime after the first of the year as the result of a suit pending in the state supreme court which threatens to invalidate the recent $3 million bond referendum which passed here by a 6 to 1 margin November 17.

The complaint contends that Article 5-A of the law is unconstitutional because it does not define clearly the qualifications for a voter. It holds that anyone residing in a district may vote under Article 5-A. The law does not specifically define that the voter must be a citizen of the United States or be 21 years of age. Thus the hitch.

While awaiting a ruling from the supreme court, which doesn't convene until Jan. 2, all Illinois schools which have held elections since June, 1951, cannot be sure that the elections are valid. No bond house will purchase the bonds for this reason — thus funds are not available for construction.

TWEEDS ADDED

A variety of new tweeds and novelty fabrics, which play up textural effects and the blending of different colors, are being shown on modern-tyle upholstered furniture in the International and S. Karpen lines.

Two-Piece Fashion

Wool Bureau Photo

WOOL JERSEY takes the spotlight in this fashion for Spring, 1952, by Joan Roberts of California. It's an eight-gored "windblown" skirt with all-'round cord tucking and bright red lining. Cord trim is also used in band at round neckline. Jersey fabric by Heller is in Laguna Blue, a new "Wool in California" color, created especially for fashion creators of the Golden State

Modern Etiquette

Q. Are bridesmaids supposed to pay for their own costumes?

A. With the exception of the flowers they carry, every article worn by bridesmaids, flower girls or pages, although chosen by the bride, must be paid for by the wearers. And the bride who has a conscience will take into consideration the size of her attendants' purses before selecting their costumes.

Q. When some creamed food is served on toast, is it permissible to cut the toast with the knife?

A. If a knife is provided, you may certainly use it. If not, you'll just have to do the best you can with your fork.

Q. Should a man take a girl's arm when he walks across the dance floor.

A. Not unless it is necessary for him to assist her through some crowded portions of the floor.

Q. Is it really considered smart to be a little late for all engagements?

A. That is nonsense. It's probably true that lateness on occasion is tolerated in those whose compensating qualities of charm are sufficiently great. But even so, our enthusiasm can be greatly strained after repeated experiences with people who are never on time.

Q. Is it all right to provide music of some kind at a funeral held in one's home?

A. If this is the wish of the bereaved, yes. There are some organ and choir recordings available, which are suitable to this purpose.

Q. May the phrase "Please reply" be used on an invitation, instead of the well-known initials, R.s.v.p.?

A. Yes; some people prefer this.

Q. Is it proper to wipe off the tableware in a restaurant with the napkin?

A. Certainly not! This is an act insulting to any reputable proprietor and usually inexcusable. If you do happen to get hold of a "doubtful" piece of silver, quietly call the waiter's attention to it and have it replaced.

Q. When stopping to speak to a woman of his acquaintance, what hand should a man use to take off his hat?"

A. His left hand, which leaves his right hand free to shake hands if the woman should offer her hand.

Q. Does the host who is doing the carving at the dinner table perform this task while seated or standing?

A. Whichever way he prefers.

Q. In signing Christmas cards, should one add the names of the children in the family? If so, what is the ruling?

A. When children's names are included, which is entirely proper, the father's name comes first. For example: "John and Mary and the Baby." Sometimes, by the way, a baby's arrival at any time during the year is announced by adding his name on the Christmas cards — "John and Mary and their new son Timothy." Cards sent to intimate friends, by a family having several children, might be from "The John Smiths—all Five" or from "The Smiths—John, Mary, Johnny, Marie and Tim." There is of course no rule about anything so informal as this.

Lessons In .... English

Words Often Misused

Do not say, "I expect she is right every now and then." Say, "I suppose," and omit every.

Do not say, "He bought the car unbeknownst to his father." Unbeknownst is a provincialism, and should be avoided. Say, "He bought the car without the knowledge of his father."

Avoid the use of "Aren't I." This is an ungrammatical affectation. Instead, say, "Am I not?"

Do not say, "Those that attend the meeting." "Those who attend the meeting" is preferable.

Do not say, "His explanation corresponds with yours." Say, "corresponds to yours."

Do not say, "This is different than that." Say, "This is different from that."

Words Often Mispronounced

Entourage (one's attendants). Pronounce an-too-razh, both a's as in ah, oo as in foot, principal accent on last syllable.

Irremediable. Pronounce ir-re-me-di-a-b'l, both i's as in it, both e's as in me, a unstressed, accent third syllable.

Maniacal. Pronounce ma-ni-a-kal ,first a as in an unstressed, i as in high, accent second syllable.

Architect. Pronounce ar-ki-tect, and not ar-chi-tect.

Motif. Pronounce mo-tef, o as in more unstressed, e as in tea, accent second syllable.

Zealous. Pronounce first syllable zel, e as in bell (not as in see).

Words Often Misspelled

Patronize, ize: enterprise, ise. Fellow, two l's; felon, one l. Rabbit (animal); rabbet (a groove). Loathe (to abhor; detest; hate), observe the e; loath (reluctant; averse), no e. Default, faul; defalcation, fal. Colander; col, though pronounced kul.

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Conciliate; to obtain the friendship of. "He tried to conciliate his employer by arriving at the office an hour early."

Vindication; justification; defense. "His triumph was hailed as a vindication of his theories."

Maxim; a general truth; especially a saying of a proverbial nature. "His words have become a maxim."

Repudiate; to refuse to acknowledge, or to accept. (Pronounce the u as in cube, accent second sylalble). "The plan was repudiated by members of the opposing party."

Sobriety; state of being sober; temperance. (Pronounce so-brie-ti, first i as in brine, accent second syllable). "His sobriety was acknowledged by the court."

Dereliction; a failure in duty. "There is no excuse for his dereliction."

Weekly recipe

Mince meat pie is a great favorite during this season of the year. It seems difficult to prepare, but really isn't especially with this week's recipe. You will be well rewarded for your efforts and what a surprise it will be for your family.

Mince Meat

1 cup chopped cooked beef
1 cup chopped apple
½ cup currants
½ cup seeded raisins
2 tbspns mild molasses
¼ cup butter
1 cup sugar
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
½ tsp. allspice
½ tsp. cloves
½ tsp. nutmeg
¼ cup rich fruit jelly
½ cup beef stock

Method: Mix all ingredients together except meat and jelly and simmer one half hour; add meat and jelly and cook 20 minutes longer.

Yield: Sufficient for 1 9" pie.

Schaumburg News

School meeting

In view of the current school situation, a special meeting has been arranged which will take place Tuesday evening at 8 in the Center schoolhouse. The meeting will be held in the interest of all persons concerned about the prevailing school problem. Representatives from Ontarioville and Hanover districts will be present also. Everyone having children attending the school is urgently requested to attend this special session. The general public is also invited.

4-H news

The girls of Schaumburg held a meeting Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Engler, at which time they were presented with awards and certificates for their excellent project work during the summer. Their Christmas party will be held December 22 and will also take place at the Engler home. Games and refreshments plus a gift exchange will be the highlight of the evening's festivities.

PTA activities

Announcement has been made of the annual PTA Christmas party which will be held in connection with the school program, December 14 at 8 p. m., for which the PTA has engaged the Lutheran school hall in Roselle. The program will follow the same procedure as in previous years with the addition of several movies to be shown following the play and recitations. Santa will then put in an appearance and distribute candy and gifts. Everyone is invited.

Hammer-Mousser nuptials

The wedding of Miss Janet Mousser to William Hammer was held November 24 at the Roselle Methodist church. Rev. Robert Rolling officiated. The couple's only attendants were his sister, Miss Alma Hammer, and Clair Amadon of Roselle. A reception for relatives and friends following the ceremony took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Wichman in Franklin Park. The newlyweds are now at home with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Mousser, Nerge rd., Roselle.

Birthdays coming up are Wilbert Fasse, Monday; Mrs. Henry J. Freise, Minna Wille and Eric Lange, Wednesday.

Parents of son

Mr. and Mrs. George Heine are the parents of a son born November 27 at an Elgin hospital.

Coming home for the Christmas holidays will be Francis Branbury, son of Mr. and Mrs. Branbury of Schaumburg rd. He is in the armed forces. Currently home on leave from the army is Stanley Metcalfe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Metcalfe. He enlisted last month.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nieman are making plans to attend the annual United Beverage League Christmas party which is an event Wednesday afternoon at Emil Proessel's hall in Dundee. Highlight of the party will be a dinner and the exchange of gifts. Mr. Nieman is president of UBL.

Elk Grove

Mothers' club

The Mothers' club held its regular meeting at the school December 13. The first grade entertained them with a fine program.

Christmas program

The boys and girls of Elk Grove school are planning to have a fine Christmas program. It will be held December 20, at 8:15 p. m. The children will have their Christmas party Friday, December 21 during the day. It is rumored that Santa will be there.

Bruce Oehlerking celebrated his tenth birthday December 11. Bruce is in the fifth grade.

Wedding and reception

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brandt were married December 8 and a wedding reception was given by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Goedeke, at the Elk Grove school.

Wilson Community

The damaging wind storm last Thursday night broke three storm windows of the Dave Borgardt home on Rand rd., and also blew the chimney down. Ed Hogreve's barn was damaged when the wind blew a door off, and other farmers suffered property losses.

Members of the Wilson PTA are invited to attend a pot luck supper at the school December 14 between 5 and 7 p. m. The regular monthly meeting will follow at 8 p. m., and a Christmas film in technicolor entitled "The Littlest Angel" will be shown.

School hours next Thursday and Friday, December 20 and 21, will be from 9 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. for all grades at which time they will practice for the Christmas program to be given Friday evening, December 21, at 8.

The school children put on a membership drive for the PTA last month, increasing the membership to a total of 80. As a reward for their excellent work, the PTA gave the primary grades a subscription to the magazine, "Jack and Jill," and presented each child with an O'Henry candy bar, Monday.

William Graham of George st., treated all the children of the Wilson school to bananas last Tuesday.

The primary room is enjoying the new coat rack that was installed over the week end. Up to this time they were obliged to pile their wraps on a table in the back of the room.

Edward Natzke donated "American Doctrine" by Landstrom to the school library this week. The school will appreciate any donations of books suitable for their library since it is not adequate for the 77 students now attending.

A substitute teacher was employed for the primary grades last Thursday and Friday when Mrs. Magnussen was ill.

A new pupil has enrolled in the fourth grade. He is Carl Brandon of Hintz rd., and was transferred from St. Peter's Lutheran school.

Donna Lee Costellanos celebrated her eleventh birthday last Saturday with a party at her home. Those attending included June Schneider, Eileen Sundquist, Barbara Westfahl, Marie Wohler, Alice Simmonds and her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Lindstrom.

Happy birthday to Jimmy Kotke, who will have a birthday Saturday, December 15.

Eight of the nine members of the Boy Scout troop of Wilson school have been awarded cards and pins for passing their tenderfoot examination according to Elmer Thorsen Jr., scoutmaster. Plans are being made to take the boys on an overnight trip to one of the nearby camps the latter part of this month.

Boys of this area are still invited to join troop 34 and may do so by calling Mr. Thorsen at Arlington Heights 7047-M.

Forest River

The Ladies auxiliary held their annual Christmas dinner party at the White Stucco Inn last week Monday. There was almost a complete attendance but for those who were ill. All were nicely remembered by their Secret Pals with many oh's and ah's at the many variety of gifts. After the gift exchange the grab bag was held and the 25 games were played. Mrs. Schauer was the lucky gal that night with the highest score. Mesdames Zeravich, Suhren and Kramer were quite proud of their identical corsages from the Pals.

The next meeting of the Ladies auxiliary will be January 8.

The Community club will hold their first meeting with the new officers Friday at about 8:00 p. m. at the club house. All men of Forest River are invited to attend.

A correction from last week's paper is in order. Mrs. Marie Schart is a patient at the Cook County hospital instead of the Evanston hospital and at the last report was getting along quite nicely. She had to have a few blood transfusions and now donors are needed to replenish the blood bank. Anyone caring to make a donation of blood, please contact Alfred Kirste, Marie's brother, who lives on Woodland dr., second house south of Anita ave.

Another correction is that Mrs. Lude was cremated at Acacia Park cemetery and not buried at Ridgewood as formerly stated.

Prospect Meadows

Home owners

The Home Owners Association met recently at the Prospect Hts. fire house. Future meetings for 1952 will be held the first Wednesday of every month. Many things of interest and benefit to the community will be discussed and action planned. A monthly information digest has been initiated to keep the entire Prospect Meadows community informed as to action planned and progress made.

Visit here

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ulan were visited recently by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Strope from Pekin, Ill. They were also hosts to Mrs. Ulan's aunt and uncle from Waukegan, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Roark.

Move away

Oriole lane is losing one of its families to California. Mr. and Mrs. David Hawkinson are moving soon with their two children, Michael who is 2, and Pat, aged 4 months. Mr. Hawkinson, who is with Picker X-Ray corporation, is being transferred to the California area. Mrs. Hawkinson's mother and father have made their home on the coast for several years; they hope to be able to join them for the Christmas season. Although Mrs. Hawkinson's mother visited her here in Prospect Meadows shortly after the baby was born, her father has never seen either of the children.

Attend dance

A number of couples from this community will be attending the dance given by the Junior Woman's club League at the Mt. Prospect Country club December 29. Anyone interested in tickets may contact Mrs. John Crise at Arlington Heights, 3724-M or Mrs. Robert LeForge at Arlington Heights 3428-J.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Long and daughter, Sharon, of Bobolink rd., left Friday for Pittsburgh, where they were called by the sudden death of Mr. Long's father.

Long Grove items

by M. LA MARCHE

The Women's Guiid Christmas party will be Friday afternoon at the church.

Long Grove church will give their Christmas program Monday evening, December 24, at 7:30 o'clock. There will be baby sitters for the little children.

Miss Ruth Vitter, Wheeling, was a guest in the Martin Wulff home Friday, and in the evening attended the square dance at the Kildeer Country Side school.

Mrs. G. B. Umbdenstock and Mrs. Emma Kruger were shopping in Waukegan Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Towner were Sunday evening dinner guests in the James Towner home, Mundelein.

Mrs. August LaMarche and daughter, Annette, spent Saturday in Chicago.

Ralph LaMarche Jr. spent the week end in Chicago with his father, Ralph Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hans called on Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pohlman in Libertyville Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Wulff visited recently with Mrs. Wulff's parents, the Arthur Malms, Milwaukee ave., Half Day.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Umbdenstock visited in the Charles Fisher home in Libertyville Sunday.

Feehanville School

Feehanville social nets nearly $200

Over 150 attended the box social and barn dance sponsored by the Feehanville PTA held at Fred's Community hall Saturday, December 8; a great many more tickets were sold. Profits will be between $150 to $200. Box lunches brought in over $80.

The popularity contest brought in over $70. Idyl Nipper and Mrs. Adam Grenda, each had over 2,500 votes.

The dance committee was Mr. and Mrs. Jack Levine, Mrs. Harold Broberg, Mrs. Wm. J. Ryan, Mrs. Frank Smith, James Brewer.

Em-cees were W. J. Rayn, Jack Levine, Stan Haverkampf. Fred donated the pop and soft drinks.

Mrs. Haverkampf says, "I think it was a great success. It brought us all together as one group. I think we all made a lot of new friends. I know I did."

Jimmy Jerousek was caller for square dancing. The group who came with him put on several dances.

The big day has come and gone. All of you people who missed the dance Saturday night really missed a good time. It was a success in pleasure and in finances. The PTA wants to thank all who worked so hard and were so loyal in supporting it. A group cannot miss putting something over when they cooperate and work as hard as the committee did for this dance.

Thought it might be interesting to find out what the pupils who were transferred thought about their new classes. We only had time to contact a few of the pupils, but will try to get the comments of the others in another issue.

To the question, "How do you like your new classes?", here are the answers. Bobby Meredith: "I can study a lot better, because there are less children in a room."

Patricia Meredith: "Serving and cooking are grand."

Keith Campbell: "Fine. I especially like gym."

Michael O'Boyle: "I like woodshop and gym. I like science because we work with magnets."

George Grenda: "I like basketball and most of the studies."

The planning commission, the architect and the school board are pushing plans as fast as they can. It won't be long before definite plans can be released. We are looking forward to wonderful things for our school if the example for cooperation as set by the people in supporting the dance is continued.

We are trying to get all of the news items pertaining to the school, but due to lack of time, it is not always possible. If any of you have any news pertaining to the school, we would appreciate it if you would send it to me at the above address in Mt. Prospect.

SERVING YOU BETTER — SAVING YOU MORE

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Psychologists tell us that we can only be happy when we have security; and I am thinking that that must be very true, because try and borrow money without it, and then think how unhappy bankers and business men must be all of the time because it seems that they can never get enough of it!

But maybe they are not searching for the right kind of security. There must be something wrong with the kind of security everyone is looking for today, because there is so much unhappiness. And maybe, I am thinking, the security everyone is striving for cannot be found in stocks and bonds, nor in real estate, nor fine cars and summer homes and a trip to Florida every winter. It seems to me that there is only one real security that can make people happy, and that is peace of mind.

When you start talking about peace of mind, you find out that it is only slightly related to food and clothing and shelter, while it is very closely related to what one thinks about himself most of all, and what the world thinks of him secondly.

If a person has been mean and disrespectful at times in his life, the memory of them is bound to goad him when he gets in certain situations, and he has no peace of mind because he is ashamed of himself. He gets ornery to other people because he is ashamed, and there is no surer means of losing peace of mind than by being ornery to other people, because they are not sure you are as wonderful as you think you are, and are likely to be mean and ornery right back, and then you feel abused and mistreated and your peace of mind is in worse shape than ever.

A guilty conscience, I am told, is a great destroyer of peace of mind, but if you are one of those people who have no conscience, you are, in a sense, a very fortunate person.

A worried person will not have peace of mind until he breaks the habit of worrying, and that is hard to do, don't I know! Because I get to worrying once in awhile myself, and it is like trying to stop the flow of a turbulent stream. But I am getting pretty good at stopping it now, and can lie right down in bed with my worries and go to sleep with them. It is done by absolutely not thinking about the thing that worries me, and putting my mind to thinking about other things until I get over the jitters and can think my problems out with what I am very pleased to call my mind, although there is a difference of opinion there between myself and some other people.

Peace of mind comes from kindliness, understanding, thoughtfulness of others, a feeling of self respect, freedom from fear and worry, and a good, firm Christian faith, which will bring about these things. I feel sorry for bankers, real estate men, lawyers and politicians, and anyone who searches for security through possession of this world's goods alone.

Weekly recipe

During the holidays we try to serve unusually attractive dishes. Your salad course can be colorful and delicious if you use recipes like the one I am giving you this week. It is so easy to prepare; I suggest you try it at the first opportunity.

Orange Cottage Cheese Salad

3 cups hot water or (1 cup orange juice and 2 cups water)
2 cups cottage cheese
Greens

Method: Dissolve gelatine in hot water and then add orange juice. Let stand until firm. Whip with rotary beater (or electric mixer) until light. Fold cottage cheese into gelatine mixture. Mold and chill. When ready to serve turn molded salad out on bed of greens and garnish with orange slices.

Vaccine promises more mink coats

A promise of more mink coats for the women at a lesser cost was seen when Lederle laboratories announced a new vaccine to prevent distemper in mink, a disease which annually kills thousands of these valuable fur-bearing animals.

This country's mink crop is estimated at 3,500,000 annually, some of which are valued as high as $3,000. An outbreak of distemper among a herd of these delicate animals could cost a rancher tens of thousands of dollars, and remove many beautiful pelts which otherwise would reach the market.

Mink distemper is caused by a virus. The disease was recognized in dogs in 1801, but was discovered in mink only in 1932. The death rate among infected mink is about 60 per cent in older animals, and close to 100 per cent in young weaned mink. Survivors of distemper usually yield pelts of inferior quality.

A Lederle spokesman said the new vaccine is the first to provide solid immunity lasting at least one year, with a single injection. Mink are ready for the fur market at about eight months of age.

Previous methods of combating mink distemper required a series of injections, and gave immunity for only a short period. The new vaccine is made from a strain of distemper which was modified by passage through fertile hen's eggs. It produces immunity in 10 to 14 days.

Presenting the Younger Generation

This handsome quartet of wee folks represents the younger generation of the Walter Joost family of Tonne rd., Bensenville. Both Mr. Joost and Mrs. Joost, formerly Pearl Gosch, are originally from Arlington Heights.

Mother's helper

Blonde curly headed Janet, first in line, is 4½ years old and the oldest of the children. She enjoys helping her mother around the house and loves to watch her little brothers. If the baby watching gets rough for this little lady, she promptly goes to mother and reports, "Mommie, my brothers get too tough for me."

"Janet talks a lot about going to school," said Mrs. Joost, "however it will be a while before she is ready for that." A dolly and dishes are this youngster's requests for Christmas.

Comedian

Pictured next and holding the large rubber ball is Billy, the comedian of the family. "His grandpa gave him that name," said Mrs. Joost, "and he is nothing but a clown." If you laugh at this little fellow he immediately laughs back. Billy's grandpa bought him a guitar for Christmas . . . soon he will add music to his gleeful antics.

Billy is 1½ years old, has blond hair and blue eyes.

Butch

Clutching the toy reindeer and wearing a winsome smile is Walter Joost Jr., nicknamed Butch. He is 2½ years old, has blond hair and brown eyes.

"Whenever in search of Butch you may be sure to find him over at the four foot fence by the barn feeding the cows," stated Mrs. Joost. "He is crazy about barns and cows and declared them his desire for Christmas," she continued.

Little guy

Last and youngest of the Joost children is Ralph, 9 month old baby. He has blond hair and blue eyes and is now in the walker stage, being able to stand alone in it.

Grandparents of these children are Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Gosch and Mrs. Lizzy Joost of Arlington Heights. Janet is the only girl of nine grandchildren on the Gosch side of the family and the boys are the only boys of ten grandchildren on the Joost side.

Tales of the Street

see Bill Heims, former Palatine resident, who lives up in Lake county near Lake's Corners. Bill was always a great hunter and trapper, and during the pheasant season we heard that he had got peppered with another hunter's shot while out after pheasants. So we dropped in to see the old timer and see how he was taking it, and what do you suppose we found him doing?

Tagged out in old clothes and boots and with a sharp hunting knife in his hand, Bill was busy skinning muskrats; he had been out over his trap line that morning and had brought in five "rats." The inevitable hunting dog which Bill always owned was at his heels. Bill showed us a scar where a shot pellet had hit him in the lip during the hunting season. "Only an accident," he remarked. "I was just glad I wasn't a few feet farther along where the main charge of shot roared through the bushes."

Bill had just started the winter trapping operations; says the "rat" crop is larger than ever this year but prices are down. We had a nice hour's visit with Bill, talking over old times and comparing notes on the fast changing population of this area. Bill says he hardly knows Palatine anymore until he gets out into the country and runs across some of his former friends.

As Bill said, we could go on like this for hours talking over the old days, but we finally left Bill to finish his "rat skinning," and we started on to roam over some more of that country up there and look over the woods and valleys where Bill runs his trap lines.

Tests reveal new facts to prevent skid-wrecks

Special tires not much improvement insofar as skidding is concerned

The national safety council warns motorists the war-born use of cold synthetic rubber in most tires now being produced has increased the danger of skidding because of less effective stop-and-go traction ability on snow and ice.

As an early winter battered much of the nation, the council said exhaustive winter driving tests conducted earlier this year at Clintonville, Wis., had proved the need for motorists to drive more cautiously with synthetic tires.

Natural rubber tires, manufactured before defense requirements forced tire companies into using more synthetic rubber, were 8 per cent superior to similar present day synthetic tires in stopping on hard-packed snow and 47 per cent better in traction ability. On glare ice, natural rubber treads were 10 per cent better in stopping ability and 16 per cent better in traction ability.

It was pointed out, however, that synthetic tires wear better, perform normally on dry or wet pavements and have other advantages.

THE TESTS indicated that on snow and ice even the specialized winter tires now appearing on the market showed relatively little overall improvement over conventional tires in comparison with the stopping and traction ability possible by using reinforced tire chains.

The test report defined three types of special winter tires: "winterized tires of conventional tread containing embedded materials or fine lacerations and cuts; "mud-snow" tires characterized by a deep tread pattern or lug design; "winterized mud-snow" tires combining deep tread with the lacerating treatment.

The stopping distance on glare ice of the best specialized tire tested is still about eight times the normal stopping distance on dry concrete. Several of the specialized tires, although showing some improvement under specific conditions, are no better, and in some cases even worse, than the conventional tread tires under other conditions.

ON THE BASIS of stopping and traction tests on the rear wheels only, the most significant findings were:

1. Stopping distances with conventional tires on hard-packed snow were about three times the normal stopping distance on dry concrete. With the best of the specialized tires, stopping distances on packed snow were about two and one-half times the dry concrete distances, and with reinforced type tire chains stopping distances on packed snow were nearly twice that obtained on dry concrete.
2. "Winterized" tires offered an average improvement of about 5 per cent in stopping ability on hard-packed snow, but their traction ability was 10 per cent less than conventional tread natural rubber tires.
3. Tires of the "mud-snow" type reduced stopping distances on hard-packed snow an average of 13 per cent compared with conventional tread natural rubber tires. In traction ability, one of the tires of this group showed an increase of 47 per cent over conventional tires, whereas the other showed an improvement of only 1 per cent.
4. "Winterized mud-snow" tires showed an average improvement of 17 per cent in stopping ability, and 19 per cent in traction ability on hard-packed snow compared with convention tread natural rubber tires.

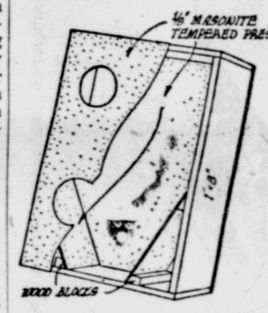
In the future

From Oregon comes news of a new attachment for any tank-type vacuum cleaner that will polish floors, furniture and cars and also do sanding, grinding and drilling . . . A new gadget for the home handyman is a stepladder "caddy" that hooks on the side of the ladder, has space for a can of paint, a tray for small articles, five hooks for hanging things and a loop for a towel or cleaning cloth . . . A new electrically lighted door plate has space for the homeowner's name as well as the bell-push . . . The retailer will like a compact coin-wrapping machine just out, which the maker says will cut wrapping time in half . . . A new metal cleaner removes oil, prevents rust and prepares the surface for painting, all in one operation.

For Christmas: Popular Bean Bag Game

A BEAN bag game can be built in the home workshop. It will make a wonderful Christmas present for both youngsters and oldsters. Four cloth bags, 4 by 5 inches, will be needed. Denim is excellent for making them. The bags should be three-fourths filled with dry beans.

For the box, cut two pieces of 1 by 8-inch pine into 24-inch lengths and two that are 34½ inches long. Nail them together as illustrated. For the back, nail on a piece of Masonite one-eighth inch tempered hardboard, 24 by 36 inches.



Inside (see drawing) put two sloping pieces of hardboard at one end of the box. Their purpose is to deliver the bean bags to one convenient place. Attach to the front another panel of hardboard, into which scoring holes of four, five and six-inch diameters have been cut out with a scroll saw. Prime and paint. Then add the scoring design with paint of contrasting color.

For play, the box may be leaned against a wall or piece of furniture. The one who tosses the four bags into the highest-score holes wins. Stand back about five paces.

Eleventh St. theater play Saturday eve

"Never Stop Dreaming," a three act original drama, will be presented at the Eleventh street theatre, Dec. 15, Saturday eve at 8:30 by the creative workshop group under the supervision of 22 year old director and playwright, Rick Paul.

New members are always welcome and interested people who love the theatre are urged to phone or write Rick Paul at 1024 Ontario, Oak Park, phone Euclid 3-2255.

Seek stamps, albums for hospitalized vets at Great Lakes

The Women's auxiliary of the Naval Airmen of America is now interested in assisting the Red Cross at Great Lakes Naval hospital to supply the service men with recreational facilities and home-baked products.

The latest request from the Red Cross was for stamp albums. If anyone has an album which some member of his family no longer wants, even if it has been used, it will be welcome. The stamps it holds may give some boy a good start on his collection.

Album or stamps may be given to Mrs. Kenneth Kuehn, rural route 2, box 569-A, Des Plaines, who will see that they are distributed at the hospital.

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

There will be no comment in this column on the realignment problem facing the Northwest and North Suburban conferences. At the meeting of principals a week ago it was decided the only information on this question would come from one designated person who on that occasion was Mr. Rouse of Grayslake. One principal suggested we not editorialize in our column on the subject until the committee had studied the problem and the principals had studied their recommendation. We think this was a good suggestion.

Realignment committee meets next week

The only comments will be in the form of information. The writer of this column was selected as committee chairman and with Warfield of Wauconda, Stork of Woodstock, Pearce of Zion, and King of Harvard will study the problem and suggest several solutions. Each principal in the 18 schools involved will send the committee their idea of the best alignment. From this the committee will work toward a plan at their meeting at Wauconda December 18.

Before January 5 a plan will be sent to each school for consideration. Each conference will discuss the plan at their January meeting. Then January 23 all schools will again assemble at Lake Forest to decide the course of action to be followed. Realignment of schools will probably not take effect until the spring of 1953. Changes are to be made on the basis of enrollment, travel distance, athletic facilities, and athletic philosophy.

Ela-Vernon votes Saturday on large school addition

Ela-Vernon votes Saturday on a $900,000 high school addition which is greatly needed. Ela is in an enviable position among schools of this area in floating a bond issue for they have no debt on their present building and have the lowest tax rate among schools of the Northwest conference. The recent addition of Vernon township gives the district enough valuation to build an addition without being seriously felt by the taxpayers.

Ela has outgrown their present plant and lacks many school facilities considered essential in all schools. Athletic needs are great along with cafeteria, class rooms, etc. We think the people up there will give the plan the support needed to make their school one of the better ones in the area.

Nolan scoring at a record pace

Bob Nolan of Wauconda, who came within four points of the conference scoring record of 264 points last year, is setting a pace this season designed to easily shatter the mark. His average in the first four games of 22.8 is well above the 19 point average needed. Paul Schrage of Palatine has a 26.7 point average for three games but his chances are actually at a 20 point pace, having missed the first game and collected an 80 total in the next three.

Wauconda beats Pirates in double bill for first time

Friday night when Wauconda beat Palatine in both ends of a double bill it was the first time in 15 years the Bulldogs had beaten the Pirates twice in the same evening. To do it Nolan had to make a field goal in the final second of the game for a one point varsity victory.

Varsity and frosh-sophs have identical records

A glance at the Northwest conference standings shows an unusual situation we have never known to exist before. Every one of the eight schools has the same won and lost record for both varsity and frosh-sophs after four league games have been played.

Ela cops two pointer vs Bisons

Handicapped by the illness of regular forwards Jim Karrigan and Dale Symkowicz, Bensenville's Bisons just did not have quite enough left to stop Ela-Vernon and lost Friday, 48-46. Further trouble for Bensenville took the form of losing two guards on fouls. When this happened Ela had a one point lead.

Both teams scored heavily in the last quarter with Ela holding a 19-18 edge on points. Twenty-six fouls were assessed against the Bisons to 14 charged to Ela. The Bears won the game at the free throw line by sinking 22 free throws to Bensenville's eight.

Cuscaden scored 16 and Helzer 14 for Ela. Cuscaden's total included 10 out of 12 free throws. Merholtz tallied 17 and Palm 10 for the under manned Bisons.

The Bensenville frosh-soph squad came out on top in the preliminary game which ended with the same 48 to 46 score. The Bison underclassmen had a 22 to 16 command at halftime, but had to fight off a third quarter rally by the visitors before earning the win. Each team notched 16 baskets so the difference in the score was actually just a pair of free tosses.

Libertyville speed tops Ela height, 60-50

Ela lost a double bill to Libertyville of the North Suburban conference Saturday night at Lake Zurich. Pinkstaff with 21 points and Newman with 18 led the Wildcats to a 60-50 win over the Ela varsity. Ela had a great height advantage but Libertyville's pressing defense and team speed gave them the edge.

Cuscaden scored 12, Helzer 11, and Radke 10 for Ela. Making but 12 out of 33 free throws hurt Ela's chances. Libertyville led 20-14, 36-20, and 50-34 at the quarter intervals. Libertyville won the frosh-soph game 50-42.

Fifteenth place, striving for fourteenth — that's the story of Palatine's Shirley Garms as this page goes to press Wednesday afternoon. Shirley is among 46 semi-finalists rolling for women's honors in the all-star bowling tournament at the Coliseum in Chicago.

In tournament games since the start of the tourney Saturday, Shirley has rolled 2961 through Tuesday. She was slated to go again late Wednesday afternoon. In those 16 games her high was 225 Tuesday for a 773 four game total, while her lowest effort was a 158 Saturday, though it was coupled with a 222 for a 763 series that day.

IF SHIRLEY could add a good series Wednesday, she stood a good chance of moving up at least one position to make the finals, which start Thursday. Sixty-four women keglers started the women's division Saturday, with 16 slated for the finals including two seeded bowlers, winner and runner-up last year.

Complete scores for Shirley:

Monday—159, 166, 167, 200, 692.

Tuesday—185, 225, 180, 183, 773, 2961.

She is averaging 185, the same that she does in league.

SANDER DECORATORS FIRST TEAM TO ENTER PADDOCK TOURNEY

Deadline Saturday night will determine all eligible fives

by BOB PADDOCK

With Saturday night deadline for determining eligibles for Paddock Publications first annual Inter-League Handicap just a few hours away, Sander's Decorators proved a possible darkhorse of the meet when they became the first squad to file entry in the tournament. The decorators roll at Hi-Way Recreation in Palatine, and are members of St. John's of Northbrook league.

The five men, according to loop secretary Leonard Koelper, have a 715 average. Personnel of the team includes Wilbert Pohlman, Martin Sander, Harold Bornhoff, Willard Glei and Herman Schellin.

Two Mt. Prospect leagues, Mt. Prospect Business Men and Friday Major, were among the first groups to reserve times for the tournament January 6, 1952. Pearson of Parkway league in Palatine is another five already registered.

THE BIG MEET, which promoters hope will include 30 to 40 teams, is open only to first place aggregations of all men's leagues bowling on alleys in Paddock Publications territory. Included are Arlington Heights Bowling Lanes, Mt. Prospect Bowling Lanes, Wheeling Recreation, Trausch-Linden Recreation at Bensenville, Bowlwood Recreation at Wood Dale, Palatine Bowling Lanes and Hi-Way Recreation at Palatine.

Slated for January 6, the meet will pit first place squads as of December 15 for honors. A large team trophy, five individual trophies, and $200 to $300 in prizes, depending on number of teams entered, are in the offing.

JUST HOW MANY teams will enter the tournament is questionable. Originally the sports department of Paddock Publications, acting on suggestions by several leagues, opened the tournament with an eye to a "little world series" of bowling within this area.

Whether any single establishment has an edge on top-notch keglers is the issue at stake and most leagues are reacting favorably to the tourney idea.

The inter-league golf tournament, sponsored by Paddock Publications sports department the past two summers, proved so popular that the same idea is being carried out on the maple lanes.

THE SUCCESS of this first tourney will decide whether a women's division might be established next year. With just as many women as men bowling, a meet between members of the fairer sex is being thought of by the promoters.

Entry fee for the tournament is $15 per five man team, including $7.50 for cost of bowling and tournament, and $7.50 to go into the prize fund.

SEVERAL TIES still exist in league standings as of this past Sunday with this week's rolling to determine eligibles for the meet. Outstanding of these is the Holy Name league in Mt. Prospect where three squads, Prospect Heights Pharmacy, L-Nor Cleaners and Stefanik Foods are all even.

Other loops with ties, or close contests, haven't provided loop standings and are not listed here. A few of the leading teams in various leagues with margins as of this past week:

Bensenville Merchants league, Rusteberg Truckers and Stresen-Reuter tied.

Arlington Scratch league, L-Nor Cleaners by 10.

Arlington Lions league, Hinz by 3.

Arlington St. James Monday league, Team No. 4 by 3.

Arlington Thursday Men, Krause & Kehe by 8.

Bensenville Suburban league, Runge by 3.

Mt. Prospect Men's Club league, Illinois Range by 1.

Mt. Prospect Business Men's league, Haberkamp's Flowers by 4.

Wheeling Tuesday league, Amvets by 3.

Wheeling Thursday league, Foote Bros. Tavern by 3.

Wheeling Friday Major league, Behm's by 2.

Palatine Parkway league, Pearson's by 6.

Palatine Community league, Courtesy Service by 4.

Palatine Sportsmen's league, Nick & Al's by 4.

Palatine Lutheran Men's league, Stan's Community Cab by 1.

Palatine Major league, Coleman Drugs by 2.

Itasca St. Luke Lutheran league, Mensching Dry Goods by 4.

BRIM league, Fred's Place by 2.

Official entry blanks can be secured by secretaries of the various leagues at the alleys at which they roll.

Bears prime to beat Cardinals

Clyde "Bulldog" Turner, a Chicago Bear all-time r geat, will be honored at Sunday's game between the Bears and Cardinals at Wrigley Field. Kickoff time is 1 p. m.

Sunday has been designated as "Turner Day" and the great center's numerous friends will present him with several gifts before the game. A veteran of eleven seasons with the Bears, Turner joined the club in 1940 and has made the all-league honor team seven times. He has been a member of four Bear world championship aggregations.

THIS WILL be the sixty-first meeting between the Bears and Cards. Although the Redbirds defeated the Bears by the score of 28 to 14 earlier this season at Comiskey Park, the Bears hold a big edge in the series. They boast 39 victories, as against 15 defeats. Six games were tied. The Cardinals have knocked the Bears out of the championship three times in the past four years, and naturally will be out to turn the trick again Sunday.

Sunday also will be homecoming for former Bear stars.

Haseman's roll 2897 to beat Mt. Prospect

Haseman's of Palatine rolled just short of a 2900 series at Hi-Way Recreation in Palatine to beat Mt. Prospect in a special match game Sunday, with Huber carding a 615 to lead both teams.

Both squads rolled 889 the opening game. Haseman's then notched 1009 and followed with 999 to cop the match by 260 pins while the visitors stumbled with 763, then regained form with a 985. The winners shot seven 200-or-better games.

Mt. Prospect: Meyer 486, Soenksen 511, Schaeffer 555, Haake 584, Pahlman 501, 889, 763, 985, 2637.

Haseman's: Hahnfeldt 579, W. Perry 579, Marquardt 584, M. Perry 540, Huber 615, 889, 1009, 999, 2897.

League leading Downers Grove at Arlington Friday

Arlington Heights cagers play host Friday night to Downers Grove, the red-hot league leading West Suburban conference five, with prospects for the ever-improving local squad not impossible. Downers beat West Aurora by four points, a team which edged Arlington by one, making the locals a five point underdog.

Lack of experience is the big stumbling block for Arlington this year. Plenty of mistakes have been made in early games, including upsetting of the team by close, aggressive defensive tactics. As the games pass, however, the Cardinals appear to be improving and gaining confidence.

TO DATE there have been three losses—a 23 point margin against Riverside and one-pointers against Maine and West Aurora. Those close ones could just as well have gone the other way, it is felt, and the record might have been 2-1.

In between was that one point win over West Aurora.

In other games Friday night Glenbard travels to Riverside, Hinsdale plays at LaGrange, and Maine entertains York. Saturday night LaGrange moves on to Glenbard and Maine will play at Downers Grove.

Paddock Publications will begin publishing scoring leaders in the West Suburban loop after this week's contest.

Wauconda deals double loss against Palatine

Palatine's basketball teams dropped to a tie for fourth place with 2-2 records by suffering a double defeat at Wauconda Friday night. It was the first time in 15 years that Wauconda had beaten Palatine twice in one evening. Bob Nolan's last second basket gave Wauconda the varsity victory, 47-46, in a hectic finish. Wauconda's strong sophomore team won easily, 41-24.

The Pirates led most of the varsity game after trailing 13-8 the first quarter and were on top by four points at the start of the final session. Palatine lost all their height for the stretch drive as Don Buenzow and Dick Abrahamson fouled out, but still appeared to have the game on ice, 46-45, with time running down to two or three seconds when Wauconda was awarded the ball out of bounds under their own basket. Nickel flipped the ball in to big Bob Nolan who made a pivot shot which was good and that was the ball game.

PALATINE NEVER came closer to winning and yet finished the loser. Failure to hit a decent percentage of free throws cost Palatine the victory as only 10 out of 24 were caged as compared with Wauconda's 13 out of 23. From the field, however, the Pirates shot a very good 32.7%. Paul Schrage continued his torrid scoring splurge with nine field goals in 21 shots and five out of 13 free throws for 23 points.

Bob Nolan, who hopes to crack the league scoring record, hit his average for four games with 23 points on seven from the field and nine out of 11 from the charity line. Norman Kersten scored 14 points for the winners. Buenzow got 12 for Palatine. It was the second week in a row that Wauconda has won in the final seconds.

WAUCONDA'S frosh - sophs were out in front 19-7 the first half and increased their lead all

Downers fells Glenbard in hard fought game

A 12 point scoring rampage by Downers Grove in the second quarter and ineffectiveness at the free-throw line combined to topple Glenbard's varsity, 54-46, in their initial conference start last Friday night before an overflow crowd on their home court.

Although both teams hit the field goal marks in a tie, 19, the Downers Grove Trojans carried away the honors at the penalty line, enabling them to cart off their second WSC triumph in as many starts.

The Hilltoppers committed 26 miscues, the Trojans scoring on 16 of them while the visitors only made 18 mishaps, Glenbard chalking up eight tallies.

IT WAS FAR from a graceful conferene debut for the Bards. They improved greatly in their aggressive play but still failed to dominate or even partially control the backboard.

With a tight defense clamped on by the visitors, the Green also had trouble with their drive in shots—Al Harp's specialty. One was a side shot, the other a tip-in.

Glenbard's top-scorer for the evening—Ronnie Walker — who collected five field goals in the confusion was only able to hit on long shots because of the Downers defense.

Fister and Lyons of Downers spearheaded the Trojan attack, combining for 29 points.

IN THE OPENING quarter, it looked like the Hilltoppers could easily walk away from the Trojans. They kept a short lead up until the final minutes of the frame when the visiting squad rallied to take a 11-10 lead. The second period really set the Downers team ahead when they poured through 12 points to the Hilltoppers' five.

As the second half opened, the home town made a valiant effort to erase a 10 point deficit but the Trojans managed to hang on to this margin right up to the closing minutes.

The final period proved to be the Hilltoppers' best. They outhit Downer, 19-17, and controlled the ball under the rim.

WITH AN individual scoring performance unsurpassed at Glenbard this year, the Bard yearlings were able to hand a 39-27 loss on the visiting Downers Grove quintet.

Tommy Peters climaxed the a total of 21 points for the sophomores—nine field goals and game when he pumped through three charity losses. Peters broke a scoring slump and hit his target from anywhere on the floor.

Peters aided by two other teammates accounted for all the scoring on the part of the baby Bards. Denny Cook poured in five baskets and two free-throws while Barry Kent hit for three field goals.

THE JUNIOR Hilltoppers had a comparatively easy time in baffling the visiting crew. Peters also was tops in the backboard duties although Tate of Downers put up a good fight for domination under the net.

The Bards were off to a quick lead in the first frame with Peters, Cook, and Kent adding their share of the points. Two of the opening baskets were off the backboard to show the potency of Glenbard's rebounding staff.

Gathering momentum after taking a 13-5 first quarter lead, the Hilltoppers went into the second frame with renewed fervor.

The visiting quintet came back strong in the second half. They narrowed the Glenbard margin down to six points before the Green rallied to gain a 12 point margin as the third frame ended.

Illini resume drills, leave Sunday for Pasadena, California

University of Illinois football team resumed drills Monday for its New Year's Day engagement with Stanford in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.

The Illini are using six of their 16 days of practice allotted to Rose Bowl competitors on the home grounds, then depart for Pasadena via the Super Chief from Chicago Dec. 16.

Most of the regulars have been playing handball and running each day since the season ended Nov. 24 to keep in trim. Only single drills will be held in Urbana, but Eliot plans double workouts for at least a week after the team arrives in California.

Illinois' travel schedule calls for arrival in Pasadena at 8:12 a. m. Dec. 18. The squad will suit up that afternoon and run through a light drill at Brookside Park primarily for benefit of news photographers. Work in earnest will begin Dec. 19.

Eliot will not name his squad of 44 for the Bowl trip until after the workout Friday.

Arlington improves but loses to York and Aurora; sophs split

Arlington Heights high school varsity cagers suffered a double loss over the week end, dropping a one-sided affair to York Friday, 49-26, then suffering a heartbreaker on the home court Saturday night at the hands of West Aurora, 38-37.

A pressing defense was the deciding issue in both games against the local Cardinal-and-White, with Friday night's contest causing the most trouble. Saturday the Heights boys had caught on from the previous night and reacted much more favorably.

The local frosh-sophs lost to York Friday, 38-27, but won Saturday, 37-32.

YORK LED all the way Friday night, stretching an 8-5 first quarter margin to 25-10 at halftime. Inability of Heights to hit the basket was evident as Jay Vawter made the only bucket in the first half, a tip-in.

Third quarter Arlington fared slightly better, with the York aggressive play still bothering Coach DeGreeff's five. Heights sank three buckets and four charities in the third segment, then dropped one basket and four free throws the final period.

HIGH SCORER of the contest was five-foot-ten Walter Kirk, York's junior forward. He sank two buckets the first quarter, four the second, three the third and followed with three more the final period as his mates fed him the ball before he retired with one-and-a-half minutes to go. He dropped in six of nine charities for 30 points, high for the league in its first full week end of competition.

Vawter and Chamberlain accounted for 17 of Arlington's 26 points. Big improvement was noted in the Cardinal's free throw record as they sank two-thirds of their attempts, 16 of 24. York also won the race for fouls, 22-11.

THE ARLINGTON frosh-sophs also fell behind the first period, never to recover, holding York even only in the final stanza. Halftime tally was 13-8, favor of the Elmhurst school.

Bob Turner and Wayne Mueller were top scorers for Coach Maurice Klotz' aggregation with 13 and 12 points. Only other scores were free throws by Sieburg and Winterbauer. Percentage at the charity line was poor with just 7 of 22 shots swishing the nets.

SATURDAY NIGHT was a different story, as the Cardinal varsity found West Aurora much more to their liking. The locals started fast, running up a 5-0 margin before the visitors opened action. First quarter tally was 12-4 when the Fox River five switched to a pressing game.

A 15-4 period developed as the inexperienced Heights five faltered, halftime tally standing at 19-15, Aurora. Third period found Arlington regaining confidence, the final segment opening on a 26-all basis.

VAWTER LED scoring for the locals with seven buckets and two of four free throws. He tallied in every frame, making four baskets the final period. Once again Arlington's free throws were up, with 17 of 26 going through the hoop.

Fans noted great improvement in Arlington's best game thus far, and hope for some victories as the squad continues to gain much needed experience. High scorer for the losers was Smith with 16.

IN THE PRELIMINARY Arlington's yearlings revived from a 10-7 opening period deficit for a 22-21 halftime lead. With Mueller, Bjorkland, Turner and Winterbauer leading the way, the locals moved into a five point advantage the third period, then hung on the final quarter.

That third segment, by the way, found the locals missing six straight free throws for an overall record of nine of 25, or the winning margin might have been larger. Hart sank seven buckets for the losers.

IN OTHER league tilts Downers beat Glenbard, 54-46, LaGrange pulled away from Maine, 60-42, and Hinsdale edged Riverside, 58-55. That latter contest was close all the way, standing 12-12, 29-24 and 40-37 at the quarters. Zitzka was tops for the winners with 19 points with Beaudoin's 11 high for Riverside.

Downers Grove presented a well-rounded attack against Glenbard with Fisher and Lyons sinking 15 and 14 points. At Maine McRae's nine baskets and three free throws helped his mates from LaGrange pull away the second half for a 60-42 victory.

MAINE RUSHED ahead the opening frame, then stumbled the second half as LaGrange tied the score and went into a 27-26 intermission lead. Peterson was tops for the losers with nine points.

Frosh-soph division found LaGrange and Hinsdale winning, though Glenbard gained a split with Downers by copping the preliminary.

Plan another Trotter-Laker game in city

Professional basketball's hottest rivalry will be resumed with the announcement that the Harlem Globetrotters and Minneapolis Lakers have agreed to meet at Chicago Stadium, Wednesday night, Jan. 2, in the feature of a huge doubleheader.

The other game, at 8 p. m., will be an official NBA contest between the Milwaukee Hawks and New York Knickerbockers, moved up on the league schedule from March 8 at Milwaukee. Tickets are on sale at the Stadium and Bond's, State and Jackson.

Globetrotter-Laker games at the Stadium from their inception in 1948 have been regarded as the cage sport's standout attraction each year. All four games to date have been staged before capacity crowds and resulted in each team winning twice.

DURING THOSE four years the Lakers also scored two victories over the Trotters in Minneapolis to give them a 4 to 2 edge in the rivalry and the honor of being the only team in the world to hold any kind of an edge over the fabulous Negro quintet owned by Abe Saperstein of Chicago.

The Globetrotters won the first game from George Mikan & Co., 61 to 59, on Ermer Robinsons last-second basket at the Stadium, Feb. 20, 1948, and made it two in a row with a 49-45 triumph here Feb. 28, 1949.

The Lakers then won 66-53 at Minneapolis March 14, 1949; 76-60 at the Stadium, Feb. 21, 1950, at the Stadium; 69-54 at Minneapolis, March 20, 1950, and 72-68, Feb. 23, 1951, at the Stadium. A total of 96,019 fans have seen the six games for an average of 16,003 at each game. The Stadium games have drawn 75,899 for an average of 18,975. The two Minneapolis games have been capacity at slightly over 10,000.

BARBARA ANN SCOTT and Michael Kirby make handsome and graceful couple as they combine talents in the 1952 Hollywood Ice Revue which opens at the Chicago Stadium Christmas night. Miss Scott is the Olympic Figure Skating Champion and the star of the talent laden cast.

Barrington rolls over Northbrook, 86-33

Barrington was just three points short of the league record as they crushed Northbrook, 86-33, Friday night for their fourth straight league victory. Barrington had trouble hitting the basket in the first period but rolled up a 48-21 margin at half time. Coach Harman used his entire squad liberally. Micky McGowan topped the scoring with 18 points. Paulson scored 14, and Hohfelder and Cochran 13 each. Big Art Landwehr, Northbrook ace, tallied sixteen. No other Northbrook player got more than one basket.

The Northbrook frosh-soph basketball team was beaten to the tune of 55 to 22 last Friday night by Barrington. The score was fairly close at the end of the first quarter with Barrington ahead by two points, 11 to 9. Then Barrington put on the steam and won without a fight.

Elmer Saveley was Barrington's high scorer with 21 points, while Travis Moore was high for Northbrook with 6.

Bronchos lose to Crystal Lake, 57-51

Saturday night Harman's Bronchos lost their first game of the season at Crystal Lake, 57-51. The game was as tight as any one could ask until the final minutes when the Lakers forged into the lead. Going into the last quarter Brady's Tigers were on top, 40-38.

Schneider's great playing for the winners was the feature. The North Suburban all-conference forward scored 21 points. Peterson scored 12 and Sayles 11 for Crystal Lake. Paulson had 13, Cochran 11, and Berghorn 10 for Barrington. Barrington took the frosh-soph preliminary 37-36.

Grant teams hold second place in both divisions

Grant high of Fox Lake took a 14-4 lead in the first period and had things their own way in fashioning a 42-35 victory at Antioch. Art Smejkal had an off night for the Bulldogs but Stob got 17 points and Lumber 13 to pace the Grant attack.

Antioch's six-foot center, Dittmar, played his best game to date, getting 12 points. Floyd, Antioch's high scorer to date was stopped with just one point.

Grant frosh-sophs, like the varsity, finished on top, 48-33, to stay in second place in the league standings.

Leyden drubs Palatine twice; Schrage gets 23

Palatine teams dropped a doubleheader at home Saturday night to Leyden's cagers. It was three doubleheader defeats in a row for the Pirates who were never in contention after the first quarter in either game. Leyden won the varsity game, 62-49, and the preliminary, 48-39.

Joe Uvelli, playing his third season as center for Leyden, made 10 field goals in 14 shots and one free throw for 21 points besides doing some fancy pass work before leaving the game on fouls in the third quarter. After Uvelli left the game Palatine moved up a bit but little Isenhart, a clever guard, took over and using a stalling offense scored enough to keep the Eagles well out in front. Isenhart scored 13 points and Rende got 12.

FOR THE SECOND night in a row Palatine was handicapped by the fouling of their big boys, Buenzow and Abrahamson, who both finished early with five penalties. Paul Schrage, who made 23 points the night before at Wauconda duplicated his box score of the night before with nine from the field and five from the free throw line. Palatine had a fine shooting percentage of 18 in 47 for 38.3% but Leyden made 25 out of 55 for an amazing 45.4%.

A large percentage of Leyden's shots were of the layup variety made after faking Palatine defensive men out of position.

Pete Abramson's playing kept the frosh-soph game on respectable terms but Palatine was no match for Leyden's height under the basket and ball handling. Leyden led 12-8 at the quarter and 25-16 at the half.

Abrahamson made eight baskets in 17 shots and two out of five free throws for 18 points and did some excellent rebounding for Palatine. Leyden's scoring was evenly divided with Halpanes scoring 11.

Add two more coaches to Illinois sessions

Two top-hanking prep basketball coaches have been added to program of the Illinois high school coaches' clinic program in Huff gymnasium Dec. 20.

They are Virgil Fletcher of Collinsville who will speak on the offensive style of his well-known Kahok teams, and George Latham of Quincy who will discuss offensive patterns of play.

Tom Scott, head coach at North Carolina University, Abe Saperstein, owner and coach of the famed Harlem Globetrotters, and Bill Healey, head coach at Eastern Illinois Teachers, were previously announced as headline speakers on the one-day school.

All coaches attending the clinic will be guests of the University of Illinois athletic association at the Illinois-North Carolina game in Huff gym at 8 p. m.

Wheeling graders cop double victory from St. Peter five

Wheeling school's basketball squad took two games from St. Peter of Arlington Heights in Wheeling Wednesday, 41-29 and 38-7.

The "A" team game was close all the way until the final quarter when the winners pulled away to a comfortable lead. Standouts in the game were Larry Brumm with 24 points and Carl Anfeldt with 12 scores at center. Gordon Moehling and John Freeman looked good at guard.

Dickie Bruiser was tops for the "B" squad with 12 points, with Larry and Billy Cokenower also looking good.

Wheeling alumni girls' volleyball aggregation edged Wheeling Monday, 43-40.

Arlington wrestlers lose to York, 23-17

Arlington Heights wrestlers gained a near-miss against York Tuesday when the local matmen bowed, 23-17. Both schools had five winners, but the visitors gained four pins while Coach George Torhan's boys garnered just one pin.

Arlington appeared to be in the best form of the year, and improving. Jim Worley pinned his man in 138 pound class, while Fred Borgardt, Norb Sargent, Bill Schaeffer and Dave Brant all won their matches.

Wheeling 'Hawks lose to Cary, then win two more

Wheeling Blackhawks lost their second straight game December 5 when they were defeated, 54-50, by a strong and well-experienced Cary Lions ball club at Cary. It was the first time in Blackhawk history they have dropped two games in a row. However, the 'Hawks put up a terrific game and only lost their chance for an upset when Fischer, Koelper, and Cusker fouled in succession in the final quarter.

The 'Hawks outscored the Lions in field goals, 18 to 16, but the Lions capitalized on their 31 free throws, making 22 of them to out-point Wheeling. Joe Pokorny paced Cary with 15 points, scoring 11 of the total on "charity throws." Kraus was runner-up for the victors. Player-coach Chuck Fischer and Joe Cusker led the 'Hawks' scoring drive with 13 points apiece, while Dick Sander took runner-up honors with 12 tallies.

THE FOLLOWING evening the Blackhawks hung on to their first place berth in the North Shore league when they defeated Conney's Cagers from Wilmette, 36 to 32, at Winnetka community house. The 'Hawks trailed at the intermission, 18-16. In the second half the 'Hawks scored 20 points to the Cagers' 14 to take their second straight league win. Fischer and Don Koelper topped the Wheeling quintette with 13 and 9 points respectively.

Friday evening, December 7, the Blackhawks returned to Wheeling, where they gave the local fans a demonstration on ball control and whipped Arlington Heights, 61 to 28. Dick Sander and Erick Wenzlaff paced the 'Hawks with 14 and 13 points each. The season record for the Blackhawks now stands at 6 wins and 2 setbacks.

AFTER THE Arlington game, the 'Hawks elected Joe Cusker as their new captain. He was elected to the post formerly held by Hans Schmidt, now playing at Arlington Heights high school. Cusker, a natural athlete, is a graduate of Northbrook high school. While at Northbrook, he majored three years in football, basketball, and baseball. He is a wonderful ball handler and a terrific competitor. Joe was a unanimous choice of his teammates.

The next game for the Blackhawks is Thursday, December 13, when they meet the Pfiester Oilers at Winnetka.

A lighted village under the Christmas tree is certainly not new but that doesn't detract from its charm when it is done with imagination.

General Electric lighting specialists suggest that one complete set of lights be reserved for the village to allow for all the many possibilities in decorating. Use yellow bulbs inside houses, perhaps a blue bulb for the church and white bulbs in stars which can be hung from lower branches of the tree.

For an unusual holiday table decoration, suspend shiny Christmas tree ornaments from a wire tree, as sketched at the right. To make the tree, use a layer cake pan for the base and conceal a set of Christmas bulbs around the inside edges. Use a wooden dowel for the tree stem and anchor it in place by inserting it in a hole in the center of the tin. Use fine wire to suspend the circular wire forms to the base, as shown in the sketch. General Electric lighting specialists point out that ornaments will pick up reflections from the lights in the base.

For a colorful holiday arrangement, group seven or eight plastic foam snowballs on a bed of greens, as shown in the photograph above.

Conceal series or multiple type Christmas tree bulbs inside the balls for a colorful glowing effect.

Commercially available types have hollow centers so that bulbs may be inserted quickly, as shown in the drawing at the left. However, if you find only solid types available, they can easily be hollowed out with a sharp knife.

General Electric lighting specialists suggest that you may prefer to use multiple type bulbs which burn independently. Then, if one bulb burns out that snowball is easily detected and the bulb quickly changed.

Discontinue metal badges for chauffeurs

Effective January 1, 1952, metal chauffeur badges will no longer be issued, secretary of state Edward J. Barrett said.

Chauffeurs will continue to receive an identification card, which must be carried on their person when they are engaged in their duties.

At Valparaiso

Exactly 150 students at Valparaiso University were honored for scholastic achievement, based on last semester's grades, in a recent honors convocation. Valpo has an enrollment of 1,744.

Among the honor students were Anita Glabe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Glabe of 6 S. William, Mt. Prospect; and Nancy Leue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Leue of 406 Lonnquist Parkway, Mt. Prospect. Both are graduates of Arlington Heights township high school.

At Florida Southern

Carl M. Teutsch, a graduate of Arlington Heights township high school, has been initiated as a member of Pi Gamma Mu, national Social Science fraternity at Florida Southern College.

Teutsch, a senior at Florida Southern is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Teutsch, Sr., 912 N. Dunton ave., Arlington Hts. He was one of 11 students and faculty members accepted by the fraternity.

The puppet show was presented to children at the Negro nursery school in Columbia and at the crippled children's ward of the local hospital. Puppetry is considered a valuable teaching method, giving a child study major the experience of judging and studying a child's reactions.

Miss Gage is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex T. Gage, 721 S. Highland. The Christmas holidays at Stephens will begin December 19.

At Ohio

Members of the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs of Ohio University joined together in a public concert in Memorial auditorium at Athens, Ohio, Sunday, Dec. 9.

The women's glee club presented a ceremony of Christmas carols, with Helen Ledford and Helen Meyer as soloists.

Both the women's and men's glee clubs are joining the university chorus in all-campus caroling for students, faculty, and townspersons, on the west portico of Memorial auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 13, two days before the Christmas recess begins.

Joanne Lea Walker, freshman at Ohio university, Prospect Hts., is singing first soprano with the Women's glee club. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Walker and a graduate of Marshall high school.

At Rockford

Miss Donna Elizabeth Mills, daughter of Mrs. E. A. Mills, formerly of Mt. Prospect and now of Miami, Fla., was elected secretary of the freshman class of Rockford college in elections held there December 5.

Miss Mills, in addition to her regular duties of office, will be a herald for Junior Day at the college and a "lady-in-waiting" to the May Day queen who will be chosen early next spring.

Many '51 grads of DeKalb teach here

Two-thirds of the 525 graduates from Illinois State Normal university this year now are teaching.

Of the other third, more than one hundred expect to teach later but now are either continuing their education or are in military service. Only three members of the class still want positions.

The report also shows the placement office received 3,313 calls for teachers during the eleven-month period, 13 percent more than in the previous year. More than 500 calls came from outside Illinois.

It brings out the great demand for elementary teachers, revealing about 21 vacancies reported to ISNU for every teaching candidate available.

THE SUPPLY of high school teachers in Illinois seems to be about in balance, according to Dr. Gibson. Dislocation of supply, however, leads to oversupply in some areas and shortages in others.

To remedy the situation he advises better counseling of high school graduates to assist them in a wiser choice of teaching fields.

Average salaries for beginning teachers from ISNU are $2,826 for those employed in high schools and $2,790 for those in elementary school.

Helen Kemmerly, third grade, Palatine consolidated school.

Jack Kemmerly, fifth grade, Palatine consolidated school.

Gwendolyn Houldridge, home economics, Northbrook high school.

Contemporary art show at Illinois Feb. 27-Apr. 13

Dates for the fifth annual University of Illinois festival of contemporary arts, Feb. 27 through April 13, were announced by Dean Rexford Newcomb of the college of fine and applied arts.

During the six-week period scheduled events will include concerts, lectures, plays, opera, and exhibitions in the various areas of art, music, literature, dance, drama, motion pictures, architecture, printing and other phases of modern living.

As in previous years a major feature of the festival program will be the annual Illinois exhibition of contemporary American painting opening March 2 and continuing through April 13. Purchase prizes amounting to $7500 are offered in this exhibition.

Dragon's Blood Out of Date

"Dragon's Blood," a deep red resin obtained from ratton cane palm trees in Eastern Asia, was used until recent years for coloring lacquers and varnishes. Now it has been replaced by coal tar dyes. It was mentioned by Pliny in his "Naturalis Historia," A.D. 77.

Campus Capers

At Illinois

William North, 1310 Mayfair rd., Arlington Heights, and Joan Frisk, 511 S. Belmont, Arlington Heights were among 103 University of Illinois seniors honored for work and service at a banquet December 6 in the ballroom of the Illini Union building.

The seniors, selected for leadership in campus activities on nomination of faculty advisors, were guests of the Union and the Alumni association at the fourth annual affair honoring activity leaders.

At Concordia

Three Arlington Heights students will participate in the presentation of Handel's Messiah by the Concordia teachers college cantata chorus, to be given December 16 at 8 p. m. in the college gymnasium, 7400 Augusta, River Forest.

The students are: Arthur Linnemann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Linnemann of Route 1; Betty Piotter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Piotter, 9 N. State rd.; and Irma Radloff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Radloff of 407 N. Pine ave.
